FO. Bert Ford, R.C.A.F., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ford of Lacombe, is shown above, wearing the sort of smile Canadians flash when they return from a successful sweep over enemy-held European territory. He is the pilot of a Mosquito bomber in a Canadian Intruder Squadron. He's just finished shooting up an enemy train, raked a troop concentration, or bombed a barrack block. He enlisted in 1940, prior to which time he was assistant editor of the Lacombe Globe, of which his father is the publisher. He was commended in the New Year's Honor's list, Jan. 1, 1943, for services to flying. He has a brother, FO. Tom Ford, in the R.C.A.F. overseas.

No Change In Mill Rate Indicated As Estimates For 14 Depts. Are Passed

As aldermen tentatively approved estimates for 14 civic departments at a special meeting of the city council Monday night it appeared likely that the mill rate for 1944 would be struck at the 49½ mills set last year.

The departmental estimates considered Monday night showed little increase over those of the previous year. These increases, in the main, were occasioned by the salary increases automatically granted to civic employees, and also through increased costs of materials due to wartime.

There was little discussion as aldermen confined themselves to questions seeking information concerning individual items.

PLAN RECOMMENDATION

Commissioner John Hodgson intimated that the completed estimates with a recommendation from the city commissioners concerning the 1944 mill rate would be submitted at the next regular meeting of council.

A second special meeting to discuss the balance of the departmental estimates will be held on Friday evening. It is expected that all estimates will be tentatively adopted at this meeting, leaving the field clear for the setting of the mill rate at the regular meeting on Monday night next.

Expenditure estimates totalling $1,611,174 were given approval at Monday night's meeting. These included 14 departments, and $213,276 of miscellaneous items.

Commissioner John Hodgson, during the consideration of the land department estimates, stated that sales of city-owned property this year was expected to exceed the $500,000 mark. Last year these sales were in excess of $600,000 a record sales-year for the department.

Expenditures of $22,988 were adopted for the building inspector's

C.C.F. Approves Aviation Policy, Adjourn Debate

C.C.F. Party spokesmen in the House of Commons Monday voiced approval of the government's civil aviation policy but debate was adjourned when Progressive Conservative members were not ready to state their views.

First reading was given a bill introduced by Angus MacInnis (CCF—Vancouver East) designed to curb activities which set races and groups one against the other. First reading was also given a bill to authorize the government to borrow up to $1,000,000,000 during the coming fiscal year.

Justice Minister St. Laurent introduced a bill to authorize enlargement of the Exchequer Court from two to three judges.

Light Snow Falls: To Become Cooler

Light snow measuring one quarter of an inch fell in the city during the early hours of Tuesday morning, following a bright spring day of warm sunshine on Monday. The maximum temperature Monday was 43 degrees above zero and fresh winds blew during the afternoon. The temperature remained mild overnight with a low of 23 degrees above zero. Not much change in the weather is indicated in the forecast which is "partly cloudy with fresh winds becoming clear and cold tonight." Official reading at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday was 25 degrees above.

Official reading at 2 p.m. today was 36 degrees, and weather officials in their afternoon forecast predict "cloudy and overcast, continuing mild."

Germans Shipping In Strait Shelled

LONDON, March 21. — (CP) — British heavy artillery on the south coast fired 140 rounds at German shipping in the Dover Strait last night, it was announced, and German guns quickly replied, bringing on one of the sharpest cross-channel duels in months. The announcement said results of the bombardment were not yet available.

ALLIED BOMBERS SINK FIVE - SHIP NIPPON CONVOY

By MURLIN SPENCER

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific, March 21.—(AP)—More than 100 Allied bombers and attack planes sank a five-ship Japanese convoy, including two vessels loaded with troops, off Wewak, enemy base in New Guinea, headquarters reported today.

"Many hundreds of troops and ships' crews were lost," the communique said of the attack Sunday.

Heavy and medium bombers with fighter planes caught two transports of 6,000 and 4,000 tons and three corvettes 70 miles northwest of Wewak at 10 a.m., and in a concentrated, low-level assault destroyed them all. The raiders lost three planes.

Gross revenues for 1943 reached a record total of $440,615,955, an increase of $64,961,412 over 1942. After payment of operating expenses, the net operating revenue was $116,140,286, an increase of $29,484,418 over 1942, and also a new high.

MOSCOW, March 21—Marshal Ivan D. Konev drove Soviet spearheads through Bessarabia to within 35 miles of the Rumanian frontier today and the government organ, Izvestia, said that "smashed German regiments are retreating across Rumania."

(Since the Soviets regard Bessarabia as a part of Russia, the Izvestia report of a Nazi retreat "across Rumania" apparently meant that the Germans are pulling back beyond the Prut river, the boundary between Rumania and Bessarabia.)

(The German high command reported that a Soviet "battle group" broke into Kowel, big rail junction in pre-war Poland 45 miles northwest of Luck, 100 miles north of Lwow and 40 miles from the German-occupied sector of Poland. It claimed the penetrating elements were "annihilated."

(The Nazis reported hard, fluctuating fighting in the areas of Kowel and Kremenia, 75 miles northeast of Lwow, where the Russians had intensified their attacks.)

As the second army of the Ukraine poured into Bessarabia on a front more than 50 miles wide,

House Banking, Finance Group Opens Sittings

By B. T. RICHARDSON
Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, March 21. — The house of commons banking and finance committee, senior parliamentary organization to review financial and economic policy, opened inquiries in Ottawa today which are expected to lead its members into an appraisal of the problem of Canada's future prosperity.

First on for the committee, likely to attract more attention as the session proceeds than any other parliamentary activity, will be the industrial development bank, proposed subsidiary of the Bank of Canada designed to underpin small and medium sized industries after the war. By statute, the committee must inquire into the Bank Act, the decennial revision of which is already in hand in the finance and other departments. Amendments will be brought down after the Easter recess.

By motion of 18 to 9, monetary reform-minded members led by C. G. McGeer (Lib., Vancouver Burrard), sent a request to the house today to have the Bank of Canada annual report referred to the committee. Graham Towers, governor

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, March 21—German shock troops lashed back savagely at attacking Allied forces around Cassino's gutted Continental hotel today and Allied spokesmen revealed that reinforcements were being dispatched to the embattled Nazi garrison holding a secret 1,200 yard tunnel leading to an ancient Roman amphitheatre outside town.

Front reports said a brawling, hand-to-hand battle raged all around the hotel and it was indicated that the New Zealand infantrymen who broke into the building yesterday and captured almost 200 prisoners had been forced back into the streets.

(BBC reporter Michael Reynolds reported from advanced 5th Army headquarters that the Allied forces inside Cassino are in a "critical and rather grim situation." While the New Zealanders hold practically all

Watching Ship Sink "Ordeal" in Torpedoing Says Edmonton Officer

OTTAWA, March 21.—(CP)—For Electrical Sub-Lt. Gus Osberg, 22, of Edmonton, the 600-mile trip which he and his mates made after abandoning ship when it was torpedoed was not such an ordeal as watching the ship crack in half, slowly rear up in the air and disappear.

Just before the merchantman slid beneath the Atlantic, escaping steam blew up a forlorn salute on her whistle. The torpedoing occurred when Osberg was en route home after service overseas.

"We knew we were in for it," he said. "It was just a question of when. The afternoon before we were hit we saw three submarines on the surface at different times but some distance away.

AT STATIONS ALL NIGHT

"We were at 'abandon ship' stations all that night and next day until, just as I had gone below for supper, I felt a dull numbing thud. That was it."

The ship's motorboat and two whalers carried the survivors. The merchantman's captain set their course.

"At the end of 11 days we

British and U.S. Subs Sink Total Of 22 Jap Ships

LONDON, March 21.—(CP)—Royal Navy submarines operating in far eastern waters have sunk seven Japanese ships and damaged three, an Admiralty communique announced today.

Two of the ships sunk were of medium size and two of small size, the communique said. The damaged vessels include a large-sized supply ship.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—(AP)—American submarines operating in Pacific waters have destroyed another 15 Japanese ships bringing to 642 the number of enemy craft sunk, probably sunk or damaged by submersibles, the Navy announced today.

The sinking, reported in a communique released by Navy Secretary Frank Knox at a news conference, include two bankers, of vital importance in moving fuel to keep the Japanese bases in operation. Also sunk were two transports and 11 freighters, the navy secretary reported.

Finns Reject Soviet Terms For Armistice

By EDWIN SHANKE

STOCKHOLM, March 21.—(AP)—The Finnish government announced today that it had rejected Soviet Russia's conditions for an Armistice but declared that it still was willing to establish peace between the two countries.

"Although the Finnish government still aspires seriously for the establishment of peaceful relations it cannot accept in advance these terms," said a communique.

It appeared from this that unless Russia consents to modify her original armistice proposals the Finns are definitely committed to continuing in the war.

BASIS OF REJECTION

Finnish political quarters said the cabinet and parliament had based their rejection of the Soviet terms on the answer which Moscow gave Finland on March 10, at which time the Russians were declared to have repeated their original demands in ultimatum form.

"To avoid any possible mistake these terms were presented to the Finnish parliament in their harshest meaning," these quarters said.

The communique described the terms which the Finnish peace envoy, Juho Kosti Passikivi, obtained through the Soviet embassy in Stockholm as "hard" and entirely unacceptable.

Nevertheless it said, the government took the matter up with parliament and received a vote of 165 to 80 authorizing it to pursue the negotiations.

To Continue Price Increase For Coal

OTTAWA, March 21. — (CP) — Douglas Abbott, parliamentary assistant to Finance Minister Ilsley said today in the Commons that a price increase for Alberta coal authorized on Dec. 1, 1943 is being continued.

The permitted increase was 50 cents a ton for regular mine run coal, and this will be reduced to 40 cents a ton April 1.

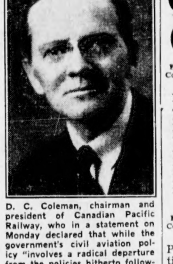

Mr. Abbott was answering an inquiry by C. E. Johnston (N.D., Bow River), who asked if a subsidiary of 50 cents a ton on coal would be continued to permit western mines to remain open.

Mr. Abbott said no subsidiary was paid mines on a flat basis, and he assumed Mr. Johnston referred to the permitted price increase.

Govt. Candidate Wins in Ontario

SIMCOE, Ont., March 21.—(CP)—Charles Martin, Simcoe, merchant, yesterday retained the riding of Haldimand-Norfolk for Ontario's Progressive Conservative government, winning by a clear majority of 2,511 votes over both C.C.F. and Liberal Candidates in a three-cornered by-election contest.

In the first public test of strength for Premier Drew's administration since he took office following the provincial general election last Aug. 4, complete returns gave Mr. Martin 10,835 votes compared with 4,491 for James G. Gibson, C.C.F. candidate, and 3,833 for George C. Mutrie, Liberal.

In Toronto Premier Drew described the by-election victory as "satisfactory proof of public confidence in the government." C.C.F. leader Jolliffe said "there has been an obvious increase in the C.C.F. vote" in the riding since last year's general election and Liberal Leader Nixon said it "is probably too soon after the General election in which the Liberal party went down to defeat to expect a result other than that experienced yesterday."

Fire Destroys Three Barracks At Whitehorse

Three barracks used to house personnel of the Dowell Construction Company at Whitehorse were destroyed by fire Monday.

Dowell Construction Company has been engaged in construction work along the Alaska Highway.

This is the second large fire in Whitehorse within the last few months.

Early in the winter roundhouse of the U.S. Army-operated Whitepass and Yukon railway was swept by fire and several locomotives were damaged.

cent over the 1942 figure, without any increase in rates. Passenger revenues were $66,891,000, an increase of 38.5 per cent. Increases were also reported in revenues from mail, express, sleeping car, dining car, hotels and commercial telegraphs.

Traffic moved over the system's lines in 1943 was 17.3 per cent greater than in 1942 the previous peak war years, and 44 per cent greater than in 1938, the peak pre-war year. The company also extended its activities as a manufacturer of munitions, ships and naval appliances.

CREATE RESERVES

"Where it was found necessary to defer repairs and renewals owing to wartime scarcity of labor and materials, reserves were created through charges to operating expenses, instead of trying to make the most favorable showing possible. The policy was continued of absorbing out of wartime revenue the heavy accruals created by wartime conditions thus avoiding carrying such costs forward to the post-war period."

In line with this policy $11,150,000 was charged to operating expenses for deferred maintenance, and $13,829,000 for depreciation on locomotives, freight and passenger cars.

Cost-of-living bonus paid on Canadian lines amounted to $18,018,000 and increased wage rates in the United States increased operating expenses by $195,555,000.

$195,555,000 PAYROLL

"The average number of employees in 1943 was 101,126 and the total payroll was $195,555,000." Mr. Gordon reported. "In the last pre-war year, 1939, the number of employees was 78,129 and the total payroll was $125,000,000."

Capital expenditure of the system for the year amounted to $23,333,089 of which $19,148,543 was new equipment. The total funded debt outstanding was reduced by $64,982,601 and now stands at $744,222,472. Government loans outstanding increased by $34,467,304 and now stand at $537,323,765.

These loans have been used for the repatriation of securities having a par value of $408,009,463 acquired in a credit to the railway of $388,757,135; redemption of matured securities, $94,107,808; purchase of new rolling stock under hire-purchase agreements between the government and the railway, $40,551,823 and additional working capital necessitated by wartime conditions, $13,906,999.

Shipyards Switch To Landing Craft

OTTAWA, March 21. — (CP) — Employés in Canada's shipbuilding program has shifted from escort to landing craft, reflecting changing fortunes of war with the enemy U-boat at bay and the assault of Europe nearing reality, Munitions Minister Howe revealed today.

Tabling his departmental estimates in the Commons, Mr. Howe noted reduced requirements for escort vessels and added that some of the shipbuilding capacity thus released will be taken up with orders for "a new type of landing vessel." Actual shipbuilding production level will be higher than last year.

He said Canadian yards, up to the end of February, had produced 925 landing craft—a 52-foot ramped cargo lighter, a 72-foot assault barge, and a 31-foot landing vessel.

At the end of February, Canada had delivered a total of 336 escort and patrol vessels, including 28 frigates, 104 corvettes, 96 steel minesweepers, 34 wooden minesweepers, and 78 Fairmile patrol boats. In addition, 75 vessels of these types were launched and now are being fitted out. Of the total of 4,300 small craft on order, 3,900 have been delivered.

Open Verdicts In Twin Murder

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C., March 21.—(CP)—A coroner's jury investigating the slayings of Hans Pfeuffer and Eugene Messmer, Finlay Forks trappers, returned open verdicts of murder by person or persons unknown, here last night.

The verdict read that the partners were "shot to death between Feb. 3 and March 10 on the Finlay River approximately 27 miles from Finlay Forks."

Alex Prince, Fort St. James Indian, accused of both murders was placed near the scene of the crime, according to testimony of Constable Harry McKenney. Dennis Duncan and Annie Pierre and Thomas Tomah told police, McKenney said, that Prince visited their cabin on Cowan's Creek on Feb. 18, and left Feb. 21. Cowan's Creek is 16 miles north of the partners' supply cabin.

Constable McKenney quoted Annie Pierre as giving hearsay that Prince told her a gold watch and chain he wore "had been borrowed from Eugene Messmer."

Report Nazis Are Taking Over All of Rumania

were Karl Peyer, Socialist leader, and Arpad Szakasits, editor-in-chief of the Socialist daily Nepsaava.

WAVE OF SUICIDES

A wave of suicides among the Jews in Hungary was reported spreading in the wake of the German occupation. About 800,000 Jews were believed to be there.

Large contingents of anti-Nazi Hungarians were reported trying to cross the frontier into Yugoslavia in an effort to join the guerilla campaign against the Germans.

One report said that Premier Nicholas Kallay had fled to south Hungary, where he was attempting to organize armed resistance against the occupation forces.

A Stockholm dispatch said Hungarians there expected an announcement that Hungary was at war with Germany, although other reports from the continent indicated that some 150,000 German troops were completing the occupation and had the entire Balkan state well under the Nazi thumb.

GERMAN VERSION

The Berlin radio quoted a government spokesman that the purpose of the occupation of Hungary was to "strengthen the defence forces in southeastern Europe"—which, by other accounts, were in a state of near panic, because of the Russian drive to within 35 miles of Rumania proper and 100 or so miles of Hungary.

Though the Germans cut all Budapest's communications with the outside world, roundabout reports reaching London said some 15,000 German troops occupied all strategic points in Hungary in a weekend coup designed to forestall a Hungarian peace move and prepare for a last-ditch stand behind the Carpathians against the approaching Red army.

Scattered fighting was reported, but the clandestine radio Atlantic reported that German troops firmly held all important railways, radio stations, telephone exchanges and government buildings.

FORMS GOVERNMENT

Hungarian quarters in Stockholm said Franz Basch, German minority leader in Hungary, former a pro-Nazi government after former Premier Bela Imredy, leader of the radical Rejuvenation party, had refused a German request to appoint a cabinet.

The last official communication received at the Hungarian legation at Stockholm, Hungarian sources in the Swedish capital said, reported that Horthy, Kallay and Ghyczy had been forced to go to Germany. All previously had been reported arrested by the Germans.

Horthy was believed to have been seized while at Adolf Hitler's headquarters, presumably at Lwow.

An exchange telegraph dispatch from Zurich said a Hungarian diplomat in Berlin informed a colleague that Horthy arrived at the headquarters Saturday with Gen. Heiyi Szumbathy, chief of the Hungarian general staff.

GERMAN DEMAND

The two leaders conferred, the dispatch said, with Hitler, German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop and Marshal Wilhelm Keitel, supreme commander of the German armed forces, who demanded:

1—General mobilization of the Hungarian army under German supervision.

2—Reorganization of the Hungarian army on the Rumanian pattern with German liaison officers with each regiment.

3—Hungarian railway and Danube River traffic be placed under a mixed general staff of Hungarian and German officers.

4—Placing of Hungarian food reserves in a general pool for equal distribution of all food supplies to Axis countries.

5—Establishment of censorship and press control on the German pattern with a ban on printing or broadcasting news originating with non-Axis powers agencies.

REQUESTS REFUSED

Though Szumbathy was believed to head a pro-German clique in Hungary, both he and Horthy refused the German demands, the Zurich dispatch said.

Hitler then gave the order for occupation of Hungary, other sources said, and ordered Horthy and Szumbathy detained, possibly as hostages.

Indirect reports reaching the British United Press at Stockholm said Hitler was stirred into action on the Hungarian question by information indicating that Hungary was about to deliver a request for a separate peace to the Allies, as well as by the need to bulwark Germany's eastern defences.

the official Soviet army journal Red Star proclaimed jubilantly:

"Germany has lost the battle of the south. The Red Army offensive is spreading like a spring flood.

"The Red Army has crossed the last river barrier in the Soviet south. The Dniester is behind us. There is increasing anxiety among Hitler's vassals, especially the Rumanians."

PUSH TO CARPATHIANS

To the northwest, Marshal Gregory Zhukov's first army of the Ukraine pushed toward the Carpathians and stepped up the pressure on Marshal Fritz Von Manstein's salient stretched taut between the Lwow approaches and Proskurov.

With the nipping off of the Vinnitsa end of the salient the German position now was narrowed to a precarious foothold,

Increasing Soviet pressure from the north raised the possibility of a break-through which would encircle the German garrisons of Proskudov and Tarnopol.

House Banking, Finance Group Opens Sittings

of the bank, Dr. W. C. Clark, deputy minister of finance, will probably lead off a succession of witnesses, who, judging from precedent, may in due course include luminaries of all schools of economic thought.

LINES ARE DRAWN

Inside the committee, the lines are already being drawn. Mr. McGeer and A. G. Slaght (Lib-Parry Sound), sitting together, represent a duo of pugnacious monetary reformers, backed by legal and historical skill. The extreme fringe of economic theorism is represented by men like John Blackmore and Norman Jacques, leading lights in the Alberta Social Credit wing of parliament. The Socialist theorists are represented by Angus McInnis, the Vancouver C.C.F.'er, and M. J. Coldwell, national C.C.F. leader from the prairies.

A powerful bloc in the committee is represented in the western radicals often silent in parliament because they are incorporated in the government's great majority, but vocal and influential in committees. This group includes men like Roy Graham (Lib.-Swift Current), Dr. T. F. Donnelly (Lib.-Wood Mountain), W. J. Ward (Lib.-Dauphin), Ralph Maybank (Lib.-Winnipeg South Centre), and Dr. W. Gershaw (Lib.-Medicine Hat).

CLASSIC DEBATE

John Blackmore, in a brief speech, said that if a new order were required in Canada "we must assume responsibility for it and show courage." D. C. Abbott, parliamentary assistant to the finance minister, reiterated the government's intention to legislate each year on farm credit facilities, an unsolved subject which, from past experience, will likely engender a classic committee debate on financial policy.

Absent from the committee, as the curtain rose on its hearings, was Finance Minister J. L. Ilsley, now recuperating in California from a near-collapse of health. Whether he will be back to participate in the bank revision, in what may be an epochal parliamentary debate on money matters, and in the crucial shaping of fiscal and banking policy which may determine the economic future of Canada, was not known.

No Peace Terms

LONDON, March 21.—(AP)—A Tass report broadcast last night from Moscow and recorded by the Soviet radio monitor, said no Russian armistice conditions had been handed Prince Barbu Stirbey, reputed peace envoy to Cairo, "or any other Rumanian representative."

Canada's War Production Has Now Reached Its Peak

it will rise only three per cent, and if all appropriations for department, including construction and capital assistance to industry are counted, the decline in 1944 will be seven per cent. Canada is over the hump in making armaments.

ESTIMATED SCOREBOARD

The estimated scoreboard in munitions production for 1944 shows: Aircraft, to expand steadily; armored fighting vehicles, maintained at high rate; mechanical transport, dropping off; army artillery, to be reduced; naval artillery, to be slightly increased; small arms ammunition, to be maintained, but small army ammunition, to be reduced; chemicals and explosives, to be reduced; cargo vessels, slightly reduced; naval ships reduction in some lines, but continued increase in escort ships, small naval craft, to be maintained; instruments and communication equipment to be increased; defence building, sharply declined.

No estimates have been made of the employment situation likely to arise from these changes in war production but evidently the manpower crisis is now well past in Canada.

By Canadian Press

Reviewing the work of his department for last year and giving some insight into the probabilities of the future, Mr. Howe disclosed that the total value of contracts awarded by the munitions department now has reached $9,450,000,000.

War production for the fiscal year 1943-44 totalled $3,435,000,000, an increase of $600,000,000 from the $2,900,000,000 production of 1942-43. Capital expenditures by the department were $194,000,000.

While the war was responsible for destruction of life and property on an unprecedented scale, Canada could expect some compensation through the enlargement of her productive capacity which could later be diverted to peacetime use, he said.

PLAN FOR RECONVERSION

"Reconversion of industry must wait until demands of war are satisfied, but active steps are being taken to prepare for rapid conversion when the time comes," Mr. Howe said.

Canada's war production, in dollar values, reached its peak in the first quarter of 1944, the minister reported. Of the more than 1,000,000 workers in direct and indirect war employment, about 800,000 are actually engaged in manufacturing war equipment.

In many instances, it was possible to convert war plants to new uses but some were single-purpose plants and lay-offs were necessary. His department was working in close co-operation with National Selective Service to place such workers.

DISCLOSES FACTS

Scanning the war production field, Mr. Howe disclosed these facts:

Aircraft — 1943 (calendar year) production was 4,133 aircraft as against 3,811 in 1942. Emphasis on larger types and more intricate designs resulted in a 50 per cent increase in dollar value. The aircraft program will continue to expand with more attention to combat craft.

Armored fighting vehicles — Total war production reached 34,000 at March 1, with 15,500 vehicles turned out in 1943 compared with 12,500 the previous year. Production will continue "at a high rate" in 1944.

Mechanical transport — With heavier and most costly vehicles being manufactured, the production dropped from 192,000 units in 1942 to 175,000 in 1943. Total production to March 1 was 593,000 units. Fewer units will be produced in 1944 but they will be of heavier type.

GREATER GUN OUTPUT

Guns, carriages and mountings—unit production for 1943 was 45,000, compared with 31,000 in 1942, bringing the war total output to 84,000 units. A further cut in production of army guns is anticipated with a slight increase in naval guns.

Machine guns and small arms—production jumped from 325,000 in 1942 to 860,000 in 1943 for a total of 1,000,000 units. Production will be "slightly greater" in 1944, but this will be weighted by several new types which can be produced at a higher rate.

Gun ammunition—1943 production was 30,000,000 rounds as against 28,000,000 in 1942 bringing the war total to 62,000,000 rounds. The 1944 production will be at approximately the same rate as in 1943.

Small arms ammunition—output for 1943 was 1,500,000 rounds in 1942 to 1,500,000,000 rounds in 1943. The program will be reduced in 1944

Chemical and explosives—net 1943 production was 1,000,000,000 pounds, compared with 860,000,000 the previous year. The program will be reduced and one major explosive plant has already been closed.

CUT SHIP PRODUCTION

Cargo vessels—1943 production was 150 ships totalling 1,478,000 deadweight tons, compared with 81 ships totalling 838,000 deadweight tons in 1942. Total production to March 1 was 249 ships. There will be "a slight reduction" in 1944.

Naval and escort ships—In 1943 there were built 100 naval ships against 117 in 1942, with last year's program of a more difficult and costly nature. Total production of escort vessels for the war period is 336. The program will undergo some revisions in 1944 with reduction of some types and production of new types. Actual deliveries of escort vessels will increase this year.

Small craft—Of a total of 4,300 orders placed, 3,600 have been delivered. Deliveries will continue in 1944 at approximately the same scale as in 1943.

Instruments and communication equipment—value of 1943 production was $180,000,000, against $84,000,000 in 1942. Total war production now is $320,000,000. The program continues to expand.

CONSTRUCTION PROJECTS

Defence and war-connected construction projects—total expenditures for the war period, including housing, amount to $675,000,000. The 1943 expenditures were $194,000,000, a reduction from the $219,000,000 of 1942. There will be "a sharp reduction" in defence building in 1944.

Dealing with controls administered by his department, Mr. Howe said further coal shortages were to be expected.

"Despite some improvement in the over-all transportation picture there is no doubt that we shall have a serious coal problem on our hands for the duration of the war," he said.

Coal now being mined will be marketed for next winter's supply.

CONTINUE SUBSIDIES

Through an intensive program, wood fuel requirements for this winter were met but production and transportation subsidies will be continued to June 1 to build up stockpiles. The situation will then be reviewed.

Overseas requirements for lumber are expected to increase greatly in 1944 and United States requirements will increase to high levels. Reduced demand is anticipated in Canada as a result of completion of a major part of the military construction program.

"So far as we can estimate at this time our total production for 1944 will be 4,350,000,000 board feet," Mr. Howe said. "Of this amount we will require 1,980,000,000 board feet, leaving for consumption in Canada 2,370,000,000 board feet. The larger supply which will be available for use in Canada will permit consideration easing of the restrictions on the use of lumber."

"Due to expanded production in Canada, we are now in fairly easy supply of aluminum, molybdenum, magnesium, titanium, chrome, lead and copper," he continued. "As a result we have been able to release some quality of these metals for civilian manufacture."

CLOSE SOME MINES

". . . The falling off in the requirements of certain non-ferrous metals will result in the closing down of certain mining operations initiated by the metals controller. There remain only two or three metals, of which the chief is tin, for which the demand still exceeds the supply."

The oil situation continues serious with increased demands from the combat areas more than offsetting improvements in transportation of crude. No hope can be held for any relaxation in the conservation program.

Wartime Oils Ltd., a crown company to develop sub-marginal areas in Alberta, has drilled 10 wells, of which six are completed and producing oil. The others are expected to be in production by the end of June.

Steel production in 1943 at 2,528,000 tons, practically doubled that of 1939.

"The situation has changed very materially in recent months. . . . It has been possible to lift some of the steel restrictions," Mr. Howe said.

MOTOR VEHICLES

On motor vehicles, Mr. Howe said:

"So long as the demand for military vehicles and parts continues at its present level, there is no prospect of our being able to manufacture passenger automobiles.

"Studies recently compiled for Allied nations show a severe world shortage of trucks for military and civil needs during 1944. . . . While we hope to increase the number that will be manufactured in 1944, we cannot begin to make available sufficient trucks to meet normal demands."

The supply position of construction materials has not yet improved sufficiently to permit issuance of permits for public buildings, churches and amusement centres unless circumstances are exceptional. The value of construction projects at Feb. 1 was estimated at $300,000,000.

Purchases by the munitions department of personal equipment and service stores for the armed forces reached $2,988,000,000 at the end of 1945, Mr. Howe reported.

Collier Is Rocked By Three Blasts

LOUISBURG, N.S., March 21. — (CP)—Three explosions rocked a collier moored in the stream here, and the force of the blasts hurled hatches 400 feet and damaged wireless and other equipment. Three crew members were burned and one was taken to hospital. Cause of the explosions, believed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion.

HOW TO RELIEVE PILE TORTURE QUICKLY AND EASILY

If you are troubled with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not suffer such torment and run the risk of letting this condition become serious. Any itching or soreness or painful passage of stool is nature's warning that relief and treatment should be secured at once.

For this purpose get a package of Hem-Roid from any druggist and use as directed. This formula which is used internally in a small, easy to take tablet, will quickly relieve the itching and soreness and aid in healing the sore tender spots. Hem-Roid is pleasant to use, is highly recommended and it seems the height of folly for any one to risk a painful and chronic pile condition when such a fine remedy may be had at such a small cost.

If you try Hem-Roid and are not entirely pleased with the results, your druggist will gladly return your money.

Hope For Peace Lies in Unity of Major Powers

By C. R. BLACKBURN

WASHINGTON, March 21.—(CP)—Hope for peace in the future lies in the unity of the great powers to prevent German aggression, "not by formal alliances but by the formulation of policies together in peace as we have done it in war," says Col. John Jacob Astor, publisher of the Times of London.

Britain, the United States, Russia and the other Allied powers must maintain an adequate force to guard against any surprise movement of aggressors, Col. Astor said in an interview here yesterday.

President of the Empire Press Union, Col Astor arrived here by air yesterday en route to Toronto where he will address the anniversary dinner of the E.P.U.'s Canadian section March 29.

GUARDED COMMENT

The Times publisher spoke guardedly of affairs in Britain and of the war situation generally. He said Prime Minister Churchill still holds the confidence of the British people and, in his opinion, is the best man to represent Britain at any peace conference.

He would not be drawn into making any forecast as to the probable end of the war in Europe. "All I know is that we in Britain are anxious that it be ended as quickly as possible," he said.

Of the possibility of a closely-integrated Empire foreign policy, Col. Astor said he saw little need for any change in present Empire relations or policy. Citizens of the Empire countries think very much alike and react similarly to emergencies, he said. Some readjustment of the machinery might be necessary to meet certain circumstances.

Bill Before House On Apprenticeship

Calling for the appointment of an apprenticeship board of not more than five persons, the Apprenticeship Act is now ready for committee of the whole discussion in the Legislature.

The board to be set up under the act will be named by the lieutenant-governor-in-council, and trades covered by the legislation are to be designated by the same authority.

General purpose of the bill, it is stated in an accompanying explanatory note, is "to require all employees over 16 and under 21 years of age to receive apprenticeship training, and it is provided that no person between these ages can be employed for more than three months without entering into an apprenticeship contract, or receiving permission of the board."

Expense involved under the plan is to be borne entirely by the Dominion government, as far as service men are concerned. Costs regarding persons other than service men are to be shared equally by the provincial and Dominion governments.

The new legislation is similar to provisions already in effect in Ontario and in British Columbia. It is stated that the enactment "will enable the province to co-operate with the Dominion government in putting the apprenticeship idea into effect."

Manitoba Intends To Electrify Rural Areas After War

WINNIPEG, March 21.—(CP)—Agriculture Minister D. L. Campbell told the Manitoba legislature last night the rural electrification scheme will be proceeded with as soon as men and materials are available after the war.

He said recommendations of the Manitoba electrical enquiry commission will be followed, except for minor changes.

Recommendations included electrification of 25,000 farms within 10 years, at an estimated cost of $16,800,000.

Former Education Minister Ivan Schultz said the school construction and remodelling post-war program called for expenditures of $5,000,000.

of the town, he said, they are under constant artillery fire from the surrounding hills and may have difficulty in holding on to their gains.

UNSUSPECTED TUNNEL

Official information reaching headquarters traced the strong German stand to the existence of a hitherto-unsuspected tunnel running from the Roman amphitheatre almost three-quarters of a mile southwest of Cassino.

German panzer grenadiers, it was revealed, have been slipping through the tunnel into Cassino under the guns of the unsuspecting Allies to bolster the band of paratroopers who had been holding the southeastern end of the town since the record Allied aerial and artillery bombardment last Wednesday.

The battle of the Anzio beachhead to the north continued stalemated, although long-range German and Allied cannon duelled continually.

On the long-dormant British 8th Army front, violent patrol clashes were reported throughout the day and night.

Declares Canada Must Plan Now For Peace Period

MELBOURNE, Australia, March 21. — (CP) — "Canada's post-war planning must begin now," Hon. T. C. Davis, Canadian high commissioner, said yesterday in an address. He stressed Canada's planning involved first, the preparation for demobilization and the re-establishment of servicemen and women into civilian life; and secondly, the reconversion of economic processes to a peacetime basis providing work for all with ample provision against major economic and social hazards.

Davis said: "Canada cannot consume her production of either primary or secondary goods and recognizes that her future lies with openings in international trade."

Debate Adjourned

C.C.F. Supports Dominion Policy on Civil Aviation, Tories Delay Giving Views

By FRANK FLAHERTY

OTTAWA, March 21.—(CP)—Co-operative Commonwealth Federation spokesmen in the Commons yesterday put their party behind the government's policy on civil aviation in both domestic and international fields.

"Owing to a misunderstanding as to what subjects were to be taken up yesterday, the debate on Munitions Minister Howe's statement Friday on civil aviation was adjourned with the Progressive Conservative party delaying expression of its views until later," Gordon Graydon, house leader of that party, said he had understood munitions department estimates were to be discussed.

The C.C.F. had only one criticism of the air policy which calls for separation of airways from railway ownership, creation of an air transport board to regulate domestic traffic and an international authority for international traffic. Spokesmen said it did not go far enough.

INTERNATIONAL OPERATION

Stanley Knowles (C.C.F.-Winnipeg North Centre) said he thought the government should have moved for international operation of international airlines as well as for international regulation. In the domestic field he said he thought the government should move at once to nationalize three strategic air routes and make them part of Trans-Canada Air Lines—the Northwest Staging Route from Edmonton to Alaska, the Mackenzie River route and the Labrador route.

When the house opened Defence Minister Ralston announced the appointme nt of Lieut.-Gen. H. D. G. Crerar as commander of the 1st Canadian Army.

Justice Minister St. Laurent introduced a bill to authorize an enlargement of the Exchequer Court of Canada from two judges to three and Hon. Malcolmis (C.C.F.-Vancouver East) obtained first reading for an amendment to the Criminal Code aimed at curbing activities which set races and groups one against another.

Persons guilty of publicly uttering or publishing such statements would be subject, on summary conviction, to a fine ranging from $50 to $200, or to a jail term of from one to two months. The bill would provide heavier penalties for those convicted more than once.

The civil aviation debate was preceded by a brief clash between Mr. Graydon and M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader. Mr. Coldwell said he thought all parties should have been ready to take part in the discussion.

REGRETS "NO DECISION"

Mr. Graydon asked if that was a "decision" but Mr. Coldwell retorted he had had to take lectures from Mr. Graydon and saw no reason why he should not "express my regret that the official opposition apparently has been unable to arrive at a decision regarding this particular matter."

Mr. Graydon demanded Mr. Coldwell withdraw his remarks and the C.C.F. leader said he would accept Mr. Graydon's word the delay was not because the Progressive Conservatives had been unable to arrive at a decision.

It was of definite interest to Canadians, said Mr. Knowles, whether Canadian landing fields and other facilities were to be used to make profits for private concerns in other countries or for the benefit of the people of other countries.

DOUBTFUL OF PLAN

He said he was doubtful about the wisdom of exempting air services between two contiguous countries from the proposed international agreement.

Mr. Knowles said Mr. Howe should explain how it was Canadian Pacific Air Lines had been able to get additional planes in wartime when Trans-Canada Air Lines and other lines had not. He said he suspected there was some "special privilege."

There was no such thing as private enterprise in the field of air transport, he said. The government provided the airways, built pilots pioneered the routes and then private finance in the form of a monopoly came along to cash in on the profits.

Sugar Policies Again Attacked By Blackmore

OTTAWA, March 21—(CP)—Canada had a chance to become the "sugar bowl of the world" when war broke out, had proper steps been taken to increase production, John Blackmore, New Democracy leader, said last night in the commons.

He was speaking on a government motion to resolve the house into committee of supply and was replying to Prime Minister Mackenzie King's charges March 10 that his earlier allegations on sugar were irresponsible.

"The production of beet sugar in Canada has been deliberately restricted by the Liberal government ever since it came into power," said Mr. Blackmore.

(Mr. Blackmore represents Lethbridge, located in the sugar beet district of Alberta.)

"YES OR NO" ANSWER

He said Mr. King could have given a "yes or no" answer to his question as to whether contributions to Liberal campaign funds had been made by St. Lawrence Sugar Refineries or its president, J. W. McConnell, but did not choose to answer. He had also asked about the relation of Mr. McConnell to the government and why the government had "condoned manipulation in the sugar industry."

None of these questions had been answered, said Mr. Blackmore.

Munitions Minister Howe interrupted to say that neither Mr. King nor any member of the government handled campaign funds and later to say that sugar production in Canada had increased more in the last five years than in any period in history.

Mr. Blackmore said he had said nothing to reflect on the prime minister's honor. He said he wanted to know, however, whether the government in its sugar policy had been "accommodating its friends or was it placating potential enemies."

Mr. Blackmore said much could have been done years ago to prepare Canada for the prospective sugar shortage.

DECISION RESCINDED

Some 1,300 acres beet sugar were to be taken out of cultivation in 1941 under the authority of the sugar controller who was "appointed by the Liberal party at whose instigation—well, you tell me." Later, this "unwise decision" was rescinded and the 1,300 acres were planted.

Sugar from beets was as good as that from cane, said Mr. Blackmore.

There had been Liberal party "manoeuvring" in respect to sugar.

"There has been no restriction," interjected Douglas Abbott, parliamentary assistant to Finance Minister Ilsley.

Participation in an international plan for sugar supplies distribution appeared to be a "conspiracy" for high prices, said Mr. Blackmore. "Yet more sinister, it seems to be agreement or complacency or acquiesence in an international plan to rob Canada of her independence."

The "King government" at least had been co-operative with interests which would destroy Canada's sovereignty, he continued.

Canada could produce all the sugar she needed.

Mr. Blackmore said that in a speech on sugar, Mr. Abbott, who comes from Montreal, had spoken as one from the "citadel of high finance," did not have the full information and "naturally blundered at every turn."

Mr. Blackmore said he invited anyone in the Liberal party to deal with his "suspicions" that a "secret influence" had been brought to bear on the government to bring about a policy of restriction in respect to beet sugar.

PRICES TOO HIGH

He said he had information indicating the Canadian people had to pay more for sugar than they should.

Mr. Howe said there had been increases in sugar production in Canada in recent years. A new sugar industry had been started in Quebec. Any interests seeking to increase production would have the support of the government. Building materials for the Quebec project had been allowed in spite of the urgent needs elsewhere, but the value of the enterprise was recognized.

The government had taken no action to limit sugar production, and every assistance had been given those who wished to expand it, said Mr. Howe.

"What about the 1,300 acres in 1941?" asked Mr. Blackmore.

"Absolute nonsense," said Mr. Howe.

Controller Quits

OTTAWA, March 21—(CP)—Munitions Minister Howe announced last night that J. S. Whalley of Winnipeg, wood fuel controller, is returning at his own request to his post as an executive of United Grain Growers Limited, Winnipeg, and that the wood fuel control has been absorbed by the timber control and henceforth will operate as one of its divisions.

C.P. Airlines To Co-Operate On New Policy

ships, telegraphs, air lines, express services, buses and trucks.

The Canadian Pacific was authorized by its original act of incorporation to operate steamship services, and in 1919, by a special act to operate air services. It has maintained throughout its history, in good and bad times alike, a standard of efficiency and safety in all its services which is second to none among the transportation systems of the world.

The Canadian Pacific Railway's first air undertaking was on an equal footing with the Canadian National Railways, to acquire stock in Canadian Airways, controlled by the late Mr. James Richardson, a pioneer in this field.

FOUND NO SOLUTION

In 1940, after the establishment of Trans-Canada Air Lines owing to the chaotic conditions produced by destructive competition between a number of small air line companies, chiefly in Northern Canada, the Board of Transport Commissioners was instructed to investigate conditions, and while their report has never been published, it apparently offered no satisfactory solution.

The Canadian Pacific then, with the encouragement and approval of the government, undertook to acquire contrpl of a number of the competing air lines and consolidate their positions.

Every step in this process has been taken with the full knowledge and approval of the authorities, and the company, in good faith, has invested a large sum of money which cannot be expected to yield any return for some time to come.

IMPORTANT SERVICE

Canadian Pacific Air Lines has been able to render important service to the nation during the war, in a portion of Canada where it has been the sole Canadian operation. In addition to the valuable transportation service which it has rendered, it has operated seven air training schools, the entire profits of which have been voluntarily returned to the government.

There has never been a time since the Canadian Pacific was incorporated when those charged with the administration of the company have failed to realize that the Canadian Pacific was and is a great national undertaking, though nominally the subject of private ownership. Nor have they ever wavered in their belief that whatever is in the best interest of Canada and its citizens generally is in the best

First Reading Is Given Govt. Financial Bill

OTTAWA, March 21.—(CP)—The house of commons last night gave first reading to a bill to authorize the government to borrow up to $1,000,000,000 during the coming fiscal year.

The bill is the annual measure authorizing loans for ordinary governmental purposes, for redeeming existing loans and for public works and general purposes.

Douglas Abbott, parliamentary assistant to Finance Minister Ilsley, said the bill gave borrowing power in the same manner as a bill passed in 1942. Only $32,413,000 remained available under the borrowings made with the authority of that measure, and obligations maturing or callable to Dec. 31, 1944, totalled more than $1,000,000,000.

PROTESTS DEBT

Victor Quelch (ND-Acadia) said "You can't pay debt with debt" and if a reduction in the national debt were sought sincerely there should be an issue of debt-free money.

In 1937, Finance Minister Dunning had suggested debt consolidation steps by which it was proposed to help in handling the national debt and Mr. Dunning's suggestions still were being quoted, said Mr. Quelch.

During Mr. Dunning's period of office as finance minister, "the resources of this country, day by day and year by year were sabotaged, manpower and industry," said Mr. Quelch.

MANY DISCHARGED

The armed forces later had discharged thousands of men as medically unfit, many of the cases being due to malutrition, but now Canadians were being asked to believe the statements made by Mr. Dunning in one of his ways to pay off the national debt.

Answering T. C. Douglas (C.C.F., Weyburn), Mr. Abbott said the national debt now was $10,561,454,023, and the interest charge on that amounted to $368,212,935 annually. The rates of interest had dropped from a peak of 5.20 per cent in 1922 to 2.60 per cent in 1943 and 2.54 per cent at Jan. 31, 1944.

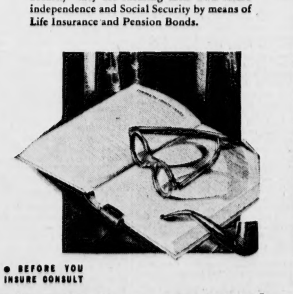

the interest of the shareholders of the company.

Presumably, legislation will be introduced to implement the statement of policy just made, and in the discussion and consideration of that legislation, any experience or information which the Canadian Pacific Air Lines has acquired in the course of its operations will be made available if required.

Calgary Will Save $3,000 on Purchase Of Electric Power

CALGARY, March 21.—(CP)—A new contract, whereby the city will save an estimated $3,000 per month on purchase of electrical energy from the Calgary Power Company, was approved yesterday by the city council.

The company will be notified of the city's right to apply to the Alberta board of public utility commissioners for an investigation of the power rate structure at any time during the life of the new agreement which expires in 1953.

This notification was suggested by Ald. F. R. Freeze on behalf of several aldermen who stated they were approving of the contract without a full knowledge of all the technical factors involved.

LONDON, March 21.—An order establishing a secret military zone 10 miles deep along some 600 miles of England's east and south coasts beginning April 1 was regarded today as another step in the preparation for the invasion of western Europe.

The most sweeping regulations since those imposed in the days just after Dunkirk will forbid visitors to enter coastal areas all the way from the Wash, half way up the English east coast, down the shores of the North Sea and the Dover Straits to the windswept rocks on the tip of Land's End. Smaller areas along the Firth of Forth in eastern Scotland also will be designated as protected military zones.

Announcement of the closure of coastal areas came soon after a warning that public travel on British railways may be stopped without notice because of military traffic.

The ban will prevent thousands of Britishers from enjoying their summer holidays at Brighton, Torquay and other seaside resorts along the south coast and will shield from public gaze the great ports of Southampton, Portsmouth and Plymouth.

Establishment of the military zone was described by The Daily Mail as "a major augury of decisive events ahead."

A coastal strip along the Straits of Dover and areas of northern and western Scotland have been under similar restrictions since the early days of the war.

By DOUGLAS AMARON

WITH THE CANADIANS IN ITALY, March 21.—(CP)—Lt.-Gen. H. D. G. Crerar, newly-appointed commander of the Canadian 1st Army, told members of the corps in Italy last week that he would be succeeded as commander of the Canadian Corps in Italy by Maj.-Gen. E. L. M. (Tommy) Burns of Westmount, Que.

Of the Corps, Gen. Crerar said, "Nothing can stop it and nothing will," as he handed over his command to assume the higher responsibility of command of the Canadian Army in Britain.

sighted the Neutral Islands for which we had been heading," Osberg said. "In those 11 days I learned more about seamanship and navigation than I normally would in a lifetime. We were all very grateful to the skipper, who, by his skill and confidence, guided us across 600 miles of ocean to safety."

After 17 days ashore the men were picked up by a neutral ship which took them to Lisbon. From there Osberg sailed for the United States, then reached Canada to enjoy foreign service and survivors' leave.

Osberg was graduated in electrical engineering from the University of Alberta. He trained with the Royal Navy and served aboard a British destroyer in the Murmansk run. Now he's back at sea again as electrical officer aboard H.M.C.S. Prince David.

Sub.-Lt. Osberg was home on leave with his parents here last October, his mother said Tuesday. He has been in the navy for two years.

Another son, Lt. Lawrence Osberg, is serving with the chemical warfare section of the Canadian Army and is now stationed at Ottawa. A son-in-law, PO. W. Bott, R.C.A.F., is stationed in Newfoundland.

Beer Weaker

NEW YORK, March 21—(AP)—The New York Herald-Tribune says it has learned from members of the brewing industry that the alcoholic strength of civilian beer in the United States has dropped to 3.3 per cent, or within 1/10th of one per cent of the 3.2 beer sold just before the full repeal of prohibition.

Civic Employees At Calgary Get Bonus Increase

CALGARY, March 21.—(CP)—The cost-of-living bonus received by civic employees will be increased to $18.50 per month for each employee, above the rank of junior, retroactive to Jan. 1, 1944, under a recommendation of the city commissioners approved by city council yesterday.

The Federation of Civic Employees has accepted the proposed increase with the street railwaymen's local dissenting. The recommendation will be referred back to the street railwaymen's union for reconsideration.

Report 54 Shot

New Labor Code Is Now in Effect

OTTAWA, March 21—(CP)—Canada's new labor code came into effect yesterday introducing compulsory collective bargaining and arbitration for workers in all war industries and in national occupations which have previously been under the Industrial Disputes Inquiry act.

Announcement of the effective date of the code was made by Labor Minister Mitchell who tabled in the commons an order in council. The code was originally announced last Feb. 17 and was to be made effective at a future date.

Mr. Justice G. B. O'Connor of Edmonton, whose appointment as chairman of the Wartime Labor Relations Board which is to administer the code was announced last week, is expected to arrive in Ottawa from Edmonton today. It is considered likely that the board will hold its first meeting later this week.

Edmonton In Arrears

The collection period for Red Cross funds in Edmonton has been extended until Saturday. The reason of course being that the objective had not been reached at the close of last week. The total on Saturday last was in fact substantially below the figure reached last year, while the amount needed is greater.

As the national objective of $10,000,000 had been made up within a fraction of one per cent by Saturday night last, Edmonton is among the delinquents. The citizens will not want the city to be in that category when the campaign is closed. Those who have neglected the matter have the remainder of this week in which to redeem the city's standing, and to secure for themselves the deep personal satisfaction of giving a hand to so worthy a cause.

Edmonton men who are fighting on fronts from Italy to India, in the air and on the sea, must not be left with a feeling that the home folks have let them down. Contributions by Saturday should therefore go well beyond the $179,000 which Edmonton people turned into the fund last year.

Fortunate In Judges

The changes announced in the judiciary, as they affect the Edmonton district, should remind everyone how fortunate this community, like most Canadian communities, has been in its judges.

Both in the upper and lower courts an exceedingly high standard has been maintained, and the type of men chosen to fill these highly responsible positions has never once fallen below that standard.

Judge J. L. Crawford, who is retiring, has rendered a lengthy and valuable service to the community.

Judge Lucien Dubuc, who is appointed chief judge of the district court of northern Alberta, a new position, has also an honorable and capable judicial history.

Judge J. C. McDonald, the new appointee, has been highly respected for many years in this district for his probity and acumen.

The quality of the bench reflects, in no slight degree, the social conscience of the people whose differences it adjudicates. For a competent and honest bench is indicative of a wholesome relationship between the individuals of a community.

Edmonton's judiciary compliments Edmonton's state of mind.

Here Comes Spring

This is the month, of course, when every complainer to the weather is paid with a discreet tongue in cheek. For the climatic vagaries of a typical March are only equalled by the climatic vagaries that have characterized this entire winter. Thus, there is always the danger, this time of year, that a journalistic rhapsody on the brilliance of the sunshine and the balminess of the air might be greeted, on its appearance in print, by a sharp wind and baby blizzard.

However there is no risk in announcing today that spring has come. For no matter what the weather may or may not do before nightfall to disprove the claim, there is the authority of the calendar to confirm it.

Come wind, come weather, March 21 is still the first day of spring.

Spring, of course, is no novelty to the 1944 Edmontonian because, during this season, he has enjoyed at least five of them.

One would naturally wish, on this occasion, to speak tenderly of the warm sun and bracing breeze and the swelling buds on the lilacs. It is too risky. One must be content with remarking that whatever Edmonton weather may be, it is never monotonous nor uninteresting.

Shortage of Doctors

Still another device to ease the shortage of medical doctors in Canada is put forward in the suggestion that some medical officers now overseas might be returned to this country to relieve conditions in some rural districts.

It is hard to believe that anyone would care to jeopardize the health of our fighting men by any such withdrawal, no matter how great the urgency may be here at home.

The proposal is made even more distasteful by the realization that drastic steps have not yet been taken in Canada to ruthlessly save the time and ease the burdens on the doctors who are available.

For instance, it is known that diagnosis consumes the major part of the general practitioner's time.

What is more sensible, then, than that the government should immediately establish a chain of free diagnostic clinics throughout the Dominion so that the largest number of patients could be handled most efficiently by the fewest number of examining doctors?

With diagnoses quickly and expertly made, the doctors who are available could treat twice or three times as many patients as they are treating now.

The Subs Go Down

Admiral Doenetz has six fewer submarines than he supposed he had. The information was tendered by the British authorities when four out of five sloops which disposed of the U-boats returned safely to port. British losses were one escort ship; no men, killed, wounded or missing. Enemy losses six submarines; 300 men, of whom 51 are prisoners of war. None of the merchant ships in the convoys was damaged or sunk.

Whoever did it was apparently correct when he predicted several weeks ago that the Nazi under-water craft would be sent out in force during the spring months—as was done a year ago. Evidently also, the men on the escort ships took this forecast seriously and prepared to give the returning subs a hot reception. The record of sinkings made by this flotilla stands by itself and will go down as one of the remarkable naval events of this war.

Six submarines will hardly be missed out of a fleet supposed to be 300 strong. But the effect upon the minds of the men who are sent out in these death traps must be serious. A tradition is being built up that attacks on Allied convoys are as dangerous to those who make them as to the intended victims. The record of several recent months shows that the odds are against the attackers, for no Allied merchant ship has been sunk by enemy action in the Atlantic for eleven weeks.

German sailors are brave men but they are not fools. They know that drowning or suffocating in a submarine is painful and not pleasant. They also know that the sea lanes are the danger spots for submarines.

V

All told, 8,000 tons of bombs were dropped on Axis Europe in 36 hours ending Friday morning. Still more significant, that may no longer be a record by the time this gets into print.

Italy has unconditionally surrendered, and months later we have no idea what it means. It has not meant peace for Italy. It has not meant a democratic evolution in those parts occupied by us. It has meant exactly what Mr. Churchill in his speech of last July 27th said was urgently to be avoided.

"We do not want . . . to find ourselves without any authorities with whom to deal. By so doing we should lay upon our armies and our war effort the burden of occupying mile by mile the entire country . . . an immense task of garrisoning, policing, and administering would be thrown upon us involving a grievous expenditure of power . . . and time. We must be careful not to get ourselves into the . . . position into which Germans have blundered . . . instead of having to hold down and administer in detail . . . by a system of Gauleiters the entire life of a vanquished population thereby becoming responsible for their upkeep and well-being."

Furthermore this is the real key to the reason for the military campaign in Italy. The conquest of Sicily freed the Mediteranean — an essential move. When the mainland was invaded in September, there were two possibilities: Either that we intended to conquer Italy to the Po valley, in which case we would have engaged the great bulk of the western German armies, or to take only southern Italy as preface to forcing a way to the Balkans. It was and still is not understandable why we should wish to capture Rome as an ultimate military aim. The idea that Rome should be conquered inch by inch, with the destruction of the shrine of Catholic Christendom, the treasury of western man, disturbs us profoundly because we do not understand the reason for it. Apparently it is impossible to see what wil have changed when we reach Rome. We can pin the life of a vanquished population thereby becoming responsible for their upkeep and well-being."

Only if we intend to move north and take the whole of Italy does it make military sense. But we cannot be planning that, and, at the same time, a vast invasion from the British Isles.

According to a dispatch from Washington by Frank Kelley on March 11th, we are also planning what amounts to the "unconditional surrender" of France. Of course we don't say so. But Mr. Kelley claims to know that the president and the war department, have decided to place the entire responsibility for recognizing this or that French political movement in the hands of General Eisenhower. In no case will any committee—including de Gaulle's—be recognized even as a provisional government for the whole of France. "Such power may be given to other factions and groups in other parts of France."

Under these conditions the French Committee of National Liberation will have even less authority than the Badoglio government. The most delicate political matters are to be left to a great general claiming only military prowess and without mandate to become de facto ruler of an Allied country. If Mr. Kelley's dispatch is correct, this is only additional evidence that our political authorities have been unable to reach agreement and are passing the buck to the army. We foresee for France just what Mr. Churchill correctly feared might happen in Italy.

To ask ones own mind, on top of all this, what "unconditional surrender" might mean in Germany is to draw a complete blank. For in this case we cannot pass the responsibility solely to General Eisenhower. There will be another general involved—a Russian.

A war can only successfully be conducted with a political aim. Until we know what kind of a Europe we wish to see constructed and what kind of a peace it is possible to construct, we shall be fighting in the dark. War is an instrument of political policy—not political policy an instrument of war. "Unconditional surrender" either means something that we do not know, or it is meaningless.

"Unconditional Surrender" Has Complicated Meaning

Political Post-War Aims Should Be Carefully Defined

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

Although Pacifism is no answer to the horrors and destruction of war, the absence of a positive peace policy is even more alarming. Those who ask for it are told, "First we must get on with winning the war"—as though war were something waged for its own sake, and victory something with a meaning in itself. But the moment a war passes out of the purely defensive stage the only cannot accept this. Then one is bound to ask for the purpose do we push this struggle on to the complete destruction of the enemy? What is the meaning of unconditional surrender?" Does not the 'unconditional' apply to ourselves as well as to the enemy? Has it not the conditions imposed affect the future of the world and therefore our own?"

"Unconditional surrender" is a simple phrase but a complicated matter. In the case of Finland, both Russia and the western world are concerned. The last would not welcome the permanent removal of Finland from the society of nations and our pressure on Finland to accept terms is influenced by fear that the most favorable opportunity may be lost.

Italy has unconditionally surrendered, and months later we have no idea what it means. It has not meant peace for Italy. It has not meant a democratic evolution in those parts occupied by us. It has meant exactly what Mr. Churchill in his speech of last July 27th said was urgently to be avoided.

Abundance for the People in Peacetime

This Is Chief Aim of All Post - War Reconstruction Planning

By B. T. RICHARDSON

OTTAWA: To put the problem of post-war economic reconstruction in a sentence, it is creation of such stockpiles of war into abundance for the people in peace. Nothing more dramatic line in the record of this war than the creation of vast stockpiles of Allied munitions. Less publicized but even more significant in the long run has been the expansion of food production in Canada. On the one hand, the slow development of 150 years since the industrial revolution has suddenly flowered in profuse, prolific production of weapons of unprecedented supplies. On the other, the output of the farms has risen at the present times to record levels.

These tacts are the final testimony that the problem of production is solved. Yet it may easily be that the stockpiles of goods for war and foodstuffs for the peoples of the world created during World War II will seem pitifully small in relation to the needs for peace that will be possible within a few years. Goods for the consumers of the world when the economies of the world will be produced on a scale never before attained in the history of the world.

Yet how will this abundance be distributed? The answer is already in the making. It has never been better stated than it was by the United Nations food conference in June, 1943, in a declaration to which Canada and 42 other countries committed themselves. That declaration said;

"It is useless to produce more food unless men and nations provide the markets to absorb it. There must be an expansion of the whole world economy to provide the purchasing power sufficient to maintain an adequate diet for all. With full employment in all countries, enlarged industrial production, the absence of exploitation, an increasing flow of trade within and between countries, an orderly management of domestic and international investment and currencies, and sustained internal and international economic equilibrium, the food which is produced can be made available to all people.

A fact singled out by Chester A. Bloom, Washington correspondent of the Winnipeg Free Press, that the American people are now eating 60,000,000 bushels of wheat annually more than they did before the war, shows how the market for food may increase under prosperity conditions. The problem of maintaining prosperity in peace at the level or higher of prosperity in war is the most urgent problem of the farmer.

Production of food and of goods is now possible on such a scale that it is obvious only the greatest folly on the part of the peoples of the world would induce them to choose any other course than the reconstruction of world trade. In Canada, prosperity will still rest, as always, upon a prosperous agriculture.

On Feb. 1, 1944, Canadian wheat supplies for export or carryover amounted to 456,000,000 bushels. During the present crop year, Canadian wheat has been moving in export at monthly rates double those of 1942-3. Beef in storage in Canada was 39,000,000 pounds on March 1, double the quantity in stock a year previous, despite shipment of more than 11,000,000 pounds to Britain. The federal meat board finds it programme of export to Britain handicapped by shortage of storage capacity. Cattle slaughtered in 1943 exceeded 1,000,000 in number. Marketing of hogs has recently swamped the packing and storage capacity of the country, and on March 1, Canadian stockpiles of pork amounted to 100,784,203 pounds. This was earmarked for the British consumer. It was twice as much pork in storage a year before.

Even mutton and lamb in storage amounted to more than four times the 1943 stockpile on March 1. Stocks of frozen fish were 23,382,000 pounds this month, compared with 18,079,000 1942. Stocks of creamery butter and cheese were up to average. The Canadian stockpile of dressed fowl was six times more than a year ago.

The Canadian record in foodstuffs production in this war is fabulous. But the great stockpiles suddenly become surplus when the war is over? The answer has been production difficulties during the war, and he will undoubtedly be able to exceed his new records by a great margin when manpower, machinery and other items are available after the war. For him, the markets of peacetime must be restored.

Ireland Expected to Show Co-operation

Only Good-Will of United Nations Can Ensure Her Sovereignty

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON: When I travelled across Ireland last spring, on the way from Lisbon to London, the countryside was as green as the shamrock, the stone fences, the soft rain, the grey roofs of Limerick, the small warmth of a peat fire in the hotel sitting room, all of this was the Ireland of romantic tradition.

It was the Ireland of Yeats, Lady Gregory, and A.E., the great poets and singers, many of whom were statesmen too. It is true we've romanticized Ireland, and it's not to be wondered at that we never was a people of such charm and such poetry.

But now the harsh fact of the war has caught up with the legend. It is a matter of life and death for the success of an effort on which we are staking the outcome of the war.

The isolation of Ireland by Britain's action in keeping all travel is not the end. Both military and diplomatic experts are convinced it will not put a stop to the espionage. They believe the danger will be removed only when the German and Japanese representatives directing the spy work are sent out of Ireland.

While travel between Great Britain and Ireland is all but eliminated, it is not possible to close the border between Northern Ireland and independent Eire. Too many people must necessarily pass back and forth in the course of their daily work. This leaves the door part way open.

Prime Minister De Valera's note on the presence of German and Japanese diplomats (real word: spies) was full of earnest conviction. But there were many weaknesses on it.

For example, he said the total number of persons suspected of engaging in espionage and now held in Irish prisons is 12. Of this number, 10 are foreigners and only two citizens of Eire. Included are the five Nazi parachutists who were captured after being dropped on Ireland with complete radio sending equipment.

De Valera's government has undoubtedly tried to break up most of the intelligence system established by the Axis in Ireland. But is is beyond belief that there are not more skilled operatives into a listening post on Britain's doorstep.

The Prime Minister's statement does not include members of the Irish Republican army who have been jailed during the war. Active members of the I.R.A. are the natural foes of Britain, and, in a sense, enemies of De Valera's government have been imprisoned but not of necessity co-operated with England in order to survive.

According to information from the Irish legation there, about 400 I.R.A. members have been arrested under security laws and put behind bars. Here, again, however, considering the bitterness of the past and the size of the population—about 3,000,000—the number is extraordinarily small.

The government of Eire makes much of the fact that a secret radio sending set was seized in the German legation. Although it is little known, the same thing happened in Washington just before Pearl Harbor with the seizure in the German embassy of a powerful set that had been used to send secret massages to Berlin.

Our security officers did not deceive themselves that this meant automatically the end of espionage reports to German headquarters. They knew it would make it harder for the Germans who would have to set up a new secret channel of communication. Only with Pearl Harbor, when all Axis agents were swept out of the country, was it possible to feel relatively secure.

The Irish have suggested a parallel with Turkey and Sweden. Technically it exists—they are both neutrals having Axis representatives in their capitals. But it is geography that counts here. Neither Sweden nor Turkey happens to be next door to the invasion.

For the smaller countries of Europe are fearful for their sovereignty. They are suspicious of talk of the "three big powers" and how they face to dominate the post-war world. Finland has now stubbornly refused to consider the Russian peace terms.

Yet they must come part way in co-operation And that goes for Ireland in this moment when so much is about to be risked.

Bernard Shaw Goes in Reverse

By LEWIS MILLIGAN

Bernard Shaw was born Dublin, and he went to London in 1876, at the age of twenty, where he engaged in socialistic agitation and later became one of the founders of the Fabian Society. The Fabians aimed to bring about "the emancipation of land and industrial capital from individual and class ownership and the vesting of them in the community for the general benefit"; "the extinction of rent"; the transfer to the community of the administration of such industrial capital as can be conveniently managed socially."

Mr. Shaw is now in his eighty-eighth year, and he is a sadder and a wiser man regarding the desirability of Socialism. He has had an opportunity of seeing it with his own eyes put into operation in Soviet Russia, and he has recently been suffering personally from its partial application in his own country. In a long letter to the London Times, the one-time socialist agitator and castigator of the capitalists has chewed up and swallowed his former self entirely.

"Facing an irresistible drift of economic forces ranged from absolute private property to public property . . . to Fascist State-aided capitalism and finally to complete State-regulated trade, from competition to co-operation to communism," Mr. Shaw now declares that these changes "may smash up civilization." He reminds us of how the socialists of Russia, "convinced that private property in land is a baneful institution, took the unscrupulous farmer, the Kulak, by the scruff of the neck and threw him into the lane to beg." The result was "events and desolation, and Russia began to starve." Lenin very soon had to pick the Kulak out of it and put him back on the farm "with instructions as he was to cultivate and exploit it for all it was worth until the Soviet was ready to take on the job."

This is the wiser Bernard Shaw speaking. He goes further: "And what applies to farming enterprise applies to all enterprise. Lenin had to rehabilitate the trader, just as he had to rehabilitate the Kulak." While he still believes that collective farming and trading "may come in time; meanwhile the more private farming and trading we have the better for everybody. Dukes are better landlords than needy free holders."

I once heard Mr. Shaw say, in his usual caricature manner, that no one should object to paying taxes: the more taxes the merrier. He has since evidently changed that, or he may argue that his dictum has been taken literally, and that you can have too much of a good thing. He is now calling upon the government to abolish the surtax and the excess profits tax "root and branch". There can be no doubt that the continuance of these excessive taxes after the war would put private enterprise into reverse.

Mr. Shaw has lived long enough to learn, not only from personal experience, but from current history, that you can't have Socialism and Democracy at one and the same time. He has seen that the first impulse of the socialists is to injure those who profit by the capitalist system, and so to try "to liquidate all its functionaries and replace them with congenial revolutionists." He warns against any attempt to repeat the Russian experiment with its "terrible" results. "Nevertheless," he says, "it seems quite probable that we shall repeat them all, and learn from experience, at an appalling cost, what we are incapable of learning from history."

Plan for Using De Gaulle In Invasion Pigeonholed By F.D.R.

WASHINGTON — The President has had what Louie Howe used to describe as "the old Dutch up" against General de Gaulle and the Army's plan for using him in the liberation of France. For two months the President has delay on the President's desk while he delayed in acting on it.

Drew Pearson

In January, this column reported that General Eisenhower had completely revamped early ideas about de Gaulle, had found that he was overwhelmingly popular inside France and that, when the second front invasion came, the Allied Armies would get more support inside France if it was known in advance that they were co-operating 100 per cent with General de Gaulle.

Accordingly, a plan was worked out whereby immediate French elections and other political matters would be under de Gaulle's Committee of National Liberation when and if France was invaded.

This political set-up was specially pushed by the Army, which didn't want General Eisenhower to have to worry about political problems as he did in North Africa. The British also agreed, and even the State Department, never enthusiastic about de Gaulle, concurred—thanks largely to the go-getting salesmanship of Under-Secretary Ed. Stettinius. Furthermore, Admiral Leahy, former Ambassador to Vichy, who has always been unenthusiastic about de Gaulle, said that he would interpose no objection.

But when the plan got to the White House, it stuck. The President kept it for two months.

Grudge

The President has given no very clear explanation, but those who were at Casablanca think they know one of the reasons. Ever since de Gaulle stubbornly refused to get together there with General Giraud, the President has had personal thumbs down on the Free French leader. Roosevelt had proposed to Churchill that de Gaulle be brought to Casablanca, figuring that, in the end, his persuasive charm could bring the two Frenchmen together.

But de Gaulle remained obdurate. Roosevelt even had a hard time getting him to pose for a photo with Giraud. It was one of the few times that the President has not been able to melt a visitor. In addition to which, de Gaulle, despite his high principles, is one of the most difficult Frenchmen anyone ever had to deal with. None of this has been forgotten at the White House.

So when the Army plan to cooperate with de Gaulle got stymied on the President's desk, Secretary of War Stimson and Acting Secretary of State Stettinius came up to the White House. Entering the executive office, Stettinius said:

"Mr. President, the Secretary of War is tremendously interested in this."

"What's the matter with the State Department?" snapped Stimson. "Isn't the State Department interested in it, too?"

Stettinius agreed, but aroused no enthusiasm from the President, who suggested that the plan be redrafted.

"What you mean," surmised Secretary of War Stimson, "is to put in a whereas and a whereof clause saying, 'Notwithstanding the above, General de Gaulle is a so-and-so'."

Russia

Captain Eddie Rickenbacker did some bare-knuckled sermonizing about the attitude of the average American toward Russia during a confidential talk on Capitol Hill the other night. Addressing a closed-door meeting of the "Fish Club" (British Empire Republican Congressmen), the World War I ace declared that the minds of most Americans are "poisoned up with "too much propaganda and too little real information" about our Russian allies.

Rickenbacker, who recently returned from a war department sponsored tour of the battle fronts, also got in a few political licks against the New Deal, plus some kudos for his friend, Lt. Gen. Geo. Kenney.

"The trouble with our thinking about Russia is that we are twenty years behind the times," Rickenbacker asserted. "Russia is entirely different now from the country we knew after the revolution. I had an excellent chance to see conditions there as a civilian observer for the War Department, and I was greatly impressed by the country and the people. In fact, the Russians could teach Americans a lot of things.

"Frequent accusation that the Soviet government is undermining family life is without foundation and obviously intended to create prejudice in the United States," Rickenbacker said.

Actually, the Soviet government is encouraging greater respect for family life, he said, and the emphasis of women in war industries is only a temporary expedient that has not interfered with their duties in the home.

"And everywhere I went, I noticed a growing tolerance of religion," he emphasized. "A few churches were closed, but a great many more were open. Anyone in Russia is free to attend religious services if he wants to. Also, the Russian people are working just as hard to establish free enterprise as we in America."

Daily War Map—Exclusively in The Edmonton Bulletin

McCoy Health Service

As asthma is such a distressing disease the one suffering from it is prodded into trying to find a remedy. In many instances, remedies will provide temporary relief but do not bring about a lasting cure and it is therefore a common experience for the asthmatic to conclude that his disease belongs to the "incurable" class. However in my own experience I find that this disorder is readily relieved and that in almost every case, the patient may be permanently helped by the use of such measures as fasting and dieting.

In the cure of any disorder, the cure depends upon removal of the cause or causes producing it. This is likewise true in asthma. In the cases which I have examined, the basic causes could be sifted down to the following three: first, an excessive gas pressure against the diaphragm; second, excessive formation of mucus in the bronchial tubes, and third, weakness of the diaphragmn (breathing muscle) which prevents the patient from enjoying normal freedom of movement in breathing in and out.

What are usually called asthmatic causes, such as irritating dust, the inhalation of plant pollens, etc., are only exciting causes. When the bronchial tubes are so congested that they are chronically engorged, then it may require only a slight irritation to bring on the acute attack. In many people, such an attack follows exposure to cat fur, feathers, orris root in face powder, or even the ink in the picture section of the Sunday paper. None of these substances, however, will be capable of inducing asthma until the underlying causes are present. Moreover they will cease to have the power to bring on the attacks once the basic causes are removed.

The attack usually comes on suddenly, following certain warning symptoms which the patient learns to recognize. The hands may be cold and the face turn blue and become covered with beads of sweat. The patient finds it increasingly hard to breathe and feels that he is in danger of sudden death from lack of air. The difficulty in breathing produces the peculiar "wheezing" sound heard during an attack of bronchial asthma, as the air fights against the obstructing mucus in the bronchial tubes themselves.

The patient may mention a peculiar sensation of heaviness in the chest and may say that he feels as though he has a ten-storey office building piled on the chest.

In the beginning he may have some trouble with a hard, dry cough but at the height of the attack the cough begins to rise sputum which is characteristic in that it carries small bits of mucus which look like beads of tapioca. These are called "Laeenec's Pearls." Once these pearls are raised, breathing usually becomes easier.

An attack may last a few minutes, a few hours, or even a few days. In itself, asthma is not as dangerous to life as it appears to the one who is watching the patient fight through the attack, and it has been observed that asthmatics seem to live about as long as, anyone else.

The efficiency of the fasting treatment will never be more quickly seen than in its application to this malady, but a careful diet using only the smallest amount of strach and sugar, will also bring about improvement, although the rate of improvement is much slower than if the initial fast were used.

All questions regarding health and diet will be answered. Large stamped, self addressed envelope must be enclosed. Write on one side of paper only. Letters must not exceed 150 words. Address McCoy Health Service, The McCoy Building, 1151 West 6th Street, Los Angeles, Calif.

Opening—♥ K 21

Today's hand played an important part in our victory. Mrs. Hilliard held off until the third round of hearts. She then led the ten of clubs and East properly refused to win. Now Mrs. Hilliard cashed four rounds of diamonds. She realized that in order to make her contract the ace of clubs must be in the East hand. This seemed probable—otherwise west might have overcalled.

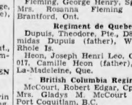

At this point she cashed the ace and king of spades, on which West's queen fell. Mrs. Hilliard led the club and East won, but had to give the declarer a spade trick with the nine-spot.

The Bulletin's SPORT SHOW by Hal Dean

SPORTS EDITOR

WITH the Alaskan Wing Golden Gloves tournament scheduled for the Arena at No. 3 "M" Depot here on May 9, 10 and 11, additional high class boxing programs would appear to be in the making for fight fans in this area. If the entry comes up to expectations, there probably will be a 25-bout card for each of the three nights.

Continuing "good-will" visits, Lt. George Regitko, U.S.A.A.F., is understood to be taking a team of four boxers to Regina on Saturday, April 1, for matches at No. 2 I.T.S. Billy Petersen, George Coleman and Rudy Imparato, all of whom have fought here, are three likely to make the trip to the Saskatchewan capital.

Petersen and Frank Petroski of No. 15 S.F.T.S. at Claresholm are dominion champion in 1940, who fought a draw at No. 19 S.F.T.S. Vulcan, last Wednesday, will probably stage a return bout at Regina. Coleman decisioned Cy. Wallner, No. 7 S.F.T.S., Macleod, at Vulcan and again at the Arena here last Friday. Sgt. John Hopkins, U.S.A.A.F., won his fight at Vulcan, but Imparato lost his.

ENGINEERS PLAY YANKS

THE current 10-pin tournament gives promise of being another bowling success. Secretary Jimmy MacLean will not have many idle moments for the rest of the week. It is also noted that Andy Tait, for many years president of the association although not taking an active part this year is also helping out and so is Jim Mason.

Unquestionably one of the premier basketball attractions of the season is slated for Westglen gym tonight with U.S. Engineers hooking up with Yanks in the first of their best-of-three series in the Alberta senior playdowns.

Although Engineers were unbeaten during the regular league schedule, Yanks scuttled them in th subsequent round robin and since went on to win the city title by a narrow margin from U.S. Air Corps, champions of the Inter-Service circuit.

Survivor of the Engineer-Yank series will proceed in the provincial playdowns with a Calgary club as the next opposition. The Alberta champions this year will be the "home club" again' the British Columbia titlists in the next round of the Dominion playdowns.

WEATHER AND DUCKS

ACCORDING to the last report from surveys made by Ducks Unlimited, over 125 million ducks moved south from the continent's duck factory in the Canadian West in the fall of 1943, a figure 28 per cent higher than the previous year.

A six-week spell of "bluebird" weather general over the west, with no snow on the ground and plenty of feed, held millions later than usual until late in November and even into December and in some parts of Alberta many never left at all.

A light snowfall in early November did start some on their way south and when the storm developed blizzard proportions in North Dakota and Minnesota, duck flights skipped over those states and went on to South Dakota and Iowa and gave them the best hunting in their history.

The freakish weather produced odd results. Illinois had great flights of mallards and green-winged teal, but other species were down, particularly pintails and bluebills. California had marvelous flights of pintails and mallards, but most of the former variety were on the wing before the season opened and the mallards after it closed, an unhappy situation for hunters.

As a net result of an accumulation of circumstances, 30 states report "more ducks" and nine "less" than in 1942, with 17 show "better hunting" and 21 "worse" than in the previous year. And, of course, all ducks were in the move north again. Your old friend the Mallard will be here any day now.

Open Tournament

Maj.-Gen. W. W. Foster, left, special commissioner Northwest Canada defence projects, and Brig.-Gen. L. D. Worsham, right, commanding general Northwest Service Command, opened the 10-pin tournament at Recreation Academy on Monday night. Simultaneously rolling "official openers," and thus sending the big event off to a rousing start, the Major-General registered a strike, while Brig.-Gen. Worsham, a trifle narrow with his first ball, neatly picked up a spare, and then "cleared the deck" twice in succession.

SASKATOON, March 21.—(CP)—Three goals in eight minutes by Vic Myles in the third period Monday night gave Flin Flon Bombers a 5-3 victory over Saskatoon H.M.C.S. Coast Combines In B.C. Finals

VANCOUVER, March 21.—(CP)—Vancouver Combines won the right to meet the Victoria champions in the provincial Senior A basketball finals by defeating Varsity 45-33 here last night. Combines won the series three games to one. Army and Airforce are tied with two wins apiece in the Victoria finals.

REGINA, March 21.—(CP)—Regina Commandos defeated Trail Smoke Eaters 4-3 in overtime Monday night to deadlock their western Canada junior hockey semi-final best-of-five series at a game apiece. Third game will be played here Wednesday night.

Andy Lambrecht, assisted by Lou Hauck and George Beach, punched home the victory goal at 8:40 in the overtime period after Trail had fought to come from behind three times in the first two periods to bring the score to 3-3. The third period was scoreless.

Larry Reardon, Hauck and George Gawthrop got the other Regina counters.

Marky Marquess, Paul Mahara and Depaolis netted for Trail.

Holding Fastball Workouts Today

Bombereties, entry of the U.S.A. A.F. in the City Girls' Fastball League will hold a workout at No. 2 O.O.S. gym tonight at 8 o'clock.

Port Arthur to Meet St. James Juniors Tonight

WINNIPEG, March 21.—(CP)—Fit as fiddles and brimming over with confidence Port Arthur Flyers arrived here Monday to meet St. James' Canadians in the western junior hockey best-of-five semi-final which opens at the amphitheatre tonight.

Second game of the series will be played Thursday night and the third Saturday night. The series winner will battle the winner of the Trail-Regina series for the western title.

Led by Coach Eddie Lauzon the Flyers boast a husky collection of puckchasers and are considered as one of the best clubs to represent the Lakehead in Memorial Cup competition in several years.

The club will feature three star replacements on its line-up. They are Pentti Lund, left winger from Port Arthur H.M.C.S. Griffon, Jack Marshall and Baldy McKay, both from Port Arthur West Ends. Marshall was leading scorer in the Thunder Bay Junior League this season.

With this trio Lauzon will send in Pop Backor, a classy left-winger, and Allan Byers, a highly-touted goal-keeper.

St. James will make only one change in its lineup against the Flyers. Coach Ken Moore has announced that Bill Tindall, with Winnipeg Rangers earlier this season, will start on defence. He will replace Charles Covie who has enlisted in the navy.

Tindall comes to the Manitoba champions under the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association ruling which permits each provincial champion to add four players to its roster in national play-offs.

Yanks Meet Engineers

Senior Men's Hoop Playoff Opens at Westglen Tonight

The northern Alberta senior men's basketball playoff opens tonight when U.S. Engineers meet the city champs, U.S. Army Yanks in the second half of the doubleheader at Westglen gym. Starlets will play Bissell in a girls' playoff fixture in the curtain raiser which starts at 7:30.

The Engineer-Yanks series will be a two-out-of-three affair with the second game set for Friday night at the same place.

The Yanks will likely be without two outstanding players, Paul Blawie and Mike Milner, but should be in top form. They have been playing without any layoff, just finishing up on top of the playoff between the Edmonton Men's Basketball league title holders and the Inter-Service loop champs, while the Engineers have been idle since the Alaska tournament which they won.

The Engineers, although beaten out in the league playoffs recently, have a near perfect record. They completed a 10-game schedule undefeated and only lost once in the round-robin, that being to Yanks. In two league contests between these two teams during the season, the Engineers won twice by comfortable margins.

The winners of this series will likely become Alberta champions as it is thought that the winner of the southern section will not compete for the right to represent the province in the Dominion playdowns. It is expected, however, that the local victors will likely journey south to play an all-star club.

Harrison Makes Charlotte Open A One-Man Show

CHARLOTTE, N.C., March 21—(AP)—Marching home with his second 60 of the tournament, Dutch Harrison converted the $10,000 Charlotte open into a one-man show Monday and took a four-stroke lead at the three-quarter mark of the 72-hole event with a total of 202.

Playing a muddy course after rain had stretched the tournament from three to five days, the Flying Dutchman of the United States Army air forces equalled his own competitive course as he lengthened his lead over Harold (Jug) McSpaden, the pre-tournament favorite, to four blows. Barring a collapse of his game today, he seems assured of becoming the first service man to win a major golf event.

McSpaden unfurled a fine 68, four under par, his third straight sub par round, but still found himself losing ground to the sentimental favorite.

LONG MAY THIS PARTNERSHIP PROSPER . . .

FOR a long time now, John Bull, Uncle Sam and Johnnie Canuck have been doing business together. Today, more than ever, we are united in a common purpose.

Side by side, Canadians, Americans and Englishmen march along the road that leads to final victory. On the hot sands of North Africa, on the slopes of Sicily and Italy, our men have fought well together . . . given strength one to the other. Now, we look forward to the peace . . . and the ways in which we can prosper.

Future world security rests to a large extent upon continued co-operation between the British Commonwealth and the United States. Of all nations, Canada is best situated to assure such co-operation. For we, of Canada . . . a major member of the British Commonwealth, have long been a close friend and neighbour of the United States. We know and like them both so well, we are the common meeting-ground for mutual understanding. Thus will Canada help the world to Win the Peace!

In our hearts is the same concept of freedom!

A GREAT and powerful partnership has been formed to bring a better life to all the peoples of the earth. ✦ Today Canada, Britain and the United States are fighting for the same ideals of freedom. ✦ This is only natural, for we have always shared the same concept of freedom. ✦ For instance, all of us share one of the earliest and most courageous champions of freedom. ✦ He was a Calvert, an enlightened English statesman and founder of colonies off Canada's shore and in Maryland. ✦ In 1638 Calvert's son and successor carrying on the democratic Calvert tradition, fined a man of his own faith five hundred lbs. of tobacco for "vilifying and profaning another's religion". ✦ Thus a man's freedom to worship as he pleases was established in the New World by a Calvert.

Believe It Or Not—By Robt. Ripley

Today's Sport Parade

NEW YORK, March 21.—Big Adolph Rupp, coach of Kentucky's basketball team, believes that freshmen should be permitted to continue in varsity competition after the war ends.

Rupp, who arrived Sunday night with his squad of 10 Wildcats for last night's play in the national invitation tournament at Madison Square Garden, says college freshmen in recent months have blasted the old theory that varsity participation might harm them physically and mentally.

The husky dark-haired, middle-aged mentor pointed to his own team as an example. The squad from the Lexington, Ky., institution comprises eight frosh and two sophs. Their average age is only 18. But this youthful outfit proved itself one of the finest teams in Kentucky's history. It has won 17 of its 18 games, beating many top-flight opponents.

DOESN'T INTERFERE

RUPP emphasized, during a chat at his hotel: "This varsity competition hasn't interfered in the least with the class work of our freshmen players. Instead, I believe the chance to play on the varsity actually served as incentive for some of them to study harder and not risk being dropped from the big team because of poor marks.

"In normal times, when first-year men are restricted to play on the freshman team, it seems to me they spend just as much time practising for the frosh squad as do the varsity players."

Rupp, coaching his 14th year at Kentucky, stressed another important angle. Varsity participation for freshmen automatically eliminates the necessity of maintaining "protective" frosh squads in which much top-flight talent is kept bottled up."

RAISES CALIBRE

THUS, there is less concentration of young talent at certain schools, and a more even distribution of good players, raising the calibre of play generally.

The Kentucky Wildcats tangled with the Utes in a quarter-final game of the invitation tourney. The Utes, also an all-civilian squad, have won 18 and lost three this season. Rupp said he hadn't been able to find out much about Utah. He had no pals in the Salt Lake area who could scout them. "They must be good," he said with a wry smile, "or they wouldn't be here. That's the trouble; and we don't know what type of attack or defence to expect."

Kentucky is one of the tournament favorites because it won the southwestern tournament and because it has beaten such strong midwestern outfits as Notre Dame, Ohio State, Indiana, Illinois, Ohio U. and Cincinnati. Its lone defeat was inflicted by Illinois, 43-41, but in a return encounter, Kentucky triumphed, 51-40.

Receives Notice

LAKEWOOD, N.J., March 21.—(AP)—Phil Weintraub, 36, upon whom New York Giants were relying to solve their first base problem this season, received notice Monday to appear in Chicago for his pre-induction physical examination on March 25.

Mel Ott to Take Pre-Induction Physical Soon

'BY TED MEIER

NEW YORK, March 21.—(AP)—New York Giants may have a new manager by the time the opening of the baseball season rolls around next month. Their present leader, 35-year-old Mel Ott, announced yesterday he would take his pre-induction physical examination at Camden, N.J., next Monday and that he was positive he would be accepted.

Ott, like Lou Boudreau, manager of Cleveland Indians, was classified 1-A in the draft several months ago. Boudreau has not received any notice when he will be called for his exam.

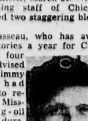

Outfielder Johnny Lindell, of the New York Yankees, also received word yesterday at Atlantic City to report for his physical.

News from other camps:

Claude Passeau To Stay at Job

FRENCH LINK, March 21.—(AP)—The pitching staff of Chicago Cubs received two staggering blows Monday.

Claude Passeau, who has averaged 17 victories a year for Cubs for the past four seasons, advised Manager Jimmy Wilson he had decided to remain on his Mississippi farm for the duration.

It required no longer than 30 minutes of the Cubs' first limbering up drill to produce their first casualty of 1944. Pitcher Paul Derringer severely wrenched, or possibly fractured, his right ankle when he stepped on a rock in a barn where were conditioning.

Burlington Wins Scoring Honors in American League

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 21.—(AP)—Fighting off a late challenge, Tom Burlington of Cleveland captured the American hockey league's 1943-44 individual scoring title Monday when final figures were released by president Maurice A. Podoloff.

Burlington recorded a goal and an assist last week to give him the two points he needed to offset hustling Fred Hunt of Buffalo. Burlington's final total was 82 and Hunt's 80.

Hunt, barely among the top scorers early in the campaign, went on a scoring spree last month and gradually rode to a threatening spot.

He wound up the last week of the season by tallying four goals and a similar number of assists, to scare Burlington and clinch the runner-up spot from Les Cunningham, who closed with 78.

Gordon Merritt of Indianapolis was the leading penalty maker with 115 minutes in the cooler. Pete Besome of Cleveland trailed was 80 minutes.

Henry Armstrong Earns Unanimous 10-Round Verdict

WASHINGTON, March 21.—(AP)—Hammerin' Henry Armstrong, the former triple champion of the prize ring, pounded out a decisive 10-round unanimous verdict over Frankie Wills, Washington hopeful, Monday night before a small gathering of the fight faithful.

Armstrong weighed 144½, Wills 146.

Armstrong had the advantage from the start. His cutting left jabs and hammering rights had Wills reeling through most of the bout. On a few occasions, Wills sent the Los Angeles fighter into a corner with a series of straight rights but Wills was unable to follow up his advantage at any point.

On the Associated Press score card Armstrong was credited with seven of the 10 rounds and one was scored even.

It was Armstrong's latest bid in his third comeback attempt since he lost the three championships he once held.

Boast 18 Experienced Players

Cardinals Probably Have Best Training Camp Turnout

CAIRO, Ill., March 21.—(AP)—Starting spring training with a squad of 18 players the National League champion St. Louis Cardinals had Monday what was probably the major league's best training camp turnout, both for quantity and quality.

Despite their contributions to the armed forces, notably Harry Walker, Lou Klein, Ernie White and Al Brazle since last season, the Cardinals have not not been forced to scrape bottom in meeting the manpower shortage facing baseball in general.

There isn't a player on the roster with less than double a minor league experience. The only apparent concession to wartime conditions was the signing of 40-year-old Pepper Martin and there's more to his case than just the team's need for another outfielder, as a matter of fact. Frank Demaree was released to make room for the wild horse of the Osage.

Martin wasn't happy as manager of Rochester and was ready to quit when Cardinal President Sam Breadon offered him a player contract. That not only kept Pepper in the Cardinal organization but gave back to the team one of baseball's most colorful characters.

Recruits up for trials with the champions include two youngsters —second-baseman Emil Verban and outfielder Augie Bergamo, both from Columbus—who are slated for regular jobs as replacements for men in service.

CANADIAN SPORTSHOTS

By SYD THOMAS

TORONTO, March 21.—(CP)—More than a few people were surprised when Gus Bodnar of Leafs edged out Bill Durnan for the Calder rookie award. The Canadiens' goalie had been regarded as almost a sure thing on his spectacular season's work. But apparently the gentleman least surprised was Durnan himself, this year's Vezina trophy winner.

In fact he was so sure he wouldn't get the trophy that he bet on himself to lose, reports Elmer Ferguson of the Montreal Herald. Most of his team-mates were unwilling to take advantage of what they probably considered his temporary derangement, but a few bet with him. So Durnan cleaned up about $20 even if the award eluded him.

FOOTBALL FORUM

It's a little unseasonable for football, but some sport writers have been reviving the Lionel Conacher versus Joe Krol controversy. H. A. Cole of the Guelph Daily Mercury ventures the opinion it's all a waste of time, since the two were playing entirely different games.

Conacher played the old Canadian rugby game with Toronto Argos about 15 years ago, while Krol happened along after the game had been streamlined and Americanized almost beyond recognition. You might just as well compare a hockey player with a lacrosse player, Cole snorts.

INCIDENTALLY:

"Sugar Jim" Henry, former Ranger goalie now with a Red Deer, Alta., army team, has applied for a transfer to the navy. . . . Sweeney Schriner is due to don the navy blue next month also, and probably will be stationed at H.M.C.S. Tecumseh in Calgary for a few months.

Amateur boxing is said due for revival this summer in London, Ont. Small shows are being put on, and later promoters hope to import glovemen from outside points.

. . . WO. H. W. A. Parsley, brother of sport columnist Al Parsley of the Montreal Herald, has been reported killed in action with the R.C.A.F. overseas. . . . Watt Ramsay and Don Turvey entered the doubles competition in an Edmonton bowling tournament. Ramsey is 71 years old and Turvey 14. . . . Vancouver Radials, acclaimed as Canadian soccer champions in 1941, still can claim the title since the trophy hasn't been played for since. They'd be hard put to round up a team now, since the players are in the army and R.C.A.F. almost 100 per cent.

Council Passes Estimates For 14 Departments

department, and with anticipated revenue at $16,000. The expenditure vote is $157 higher than the actual expenditure in 1943. Salaries accounts for $19,530 of the expenditure vote. Transportation allowance for the department was set at $2,145.

The revenue estimate of $16,000 is $6,798.49 below the actual of 1943.

Ald. Sidney Bowcott intimated that the city gas committee would request the appointment of an inspector whose duties would be to inspect installation of heating plants and chimney installations. He said such an inspection would result in considerable saving through reduction in fire losses.

Ald. H. D. Ainlay asked Maxwell C. Dewar if he had an adequate inspection staff to properly inspect all new structures and alterations. He suggested that the estimates be increased to provide an extra inspector.

Commissioner John Hodgson said it would not be necessary to increase the vote as estimated revenue would probably exceed the $16,000 placed in the estimates. He said if the need for an extra inspector arose, the appointment would be authorized.

MAINTENANCE COSTS

Maintenance of civic buildings will cost approximately $13,028, of which $12,171 will be paid as salaries. This vote will be reimbursed by the departments, and was tentatively adopted.

City hall maintenance will cost $23,120. Of this amount, $8,700 will be paid in salaries; $4,700 for fuel, light and power; $4,000 for alterations, and $5,565 for maintenance work.

Approval was given to expenditures amounting to $33,025 for the assessor's department. Salaries of the department amount to $28,715; postage and stationery and printing, $2,780; transportation, $1,200, and telephones, $305.

An expenditure of $24,020 was passed for the children's aid department of which $16,000 was for care of wards. Salaries in the department amount to $5,870.

Frank Drayton said approximately 100 wards were now in residence in city homes. He said that he was endeavoring to obtain an additional probation officer.

CITY CLERK'S OFFICE

Estimates for the city clerk's office amounting to $5,556 were passed. Salaries account for $5,136 of this amount. Stationery and supplies will cost $350 and telephone $70.

Expenditures in the civic relief department were estimated at $62,968 with revenue placed at $2,000.

Salaries in this department amount to $11,237; provisions, $35,000; rentals $22,500; fuel, $4,000; clothing, $2,000; medical expenses, $2,400, and burials, $800.

The estimates for the civic employment bureau amounting to $3,668 were passed. Salaries in this department amount to $3,144.

Expenditures of $8,509 were passed for the market department of which $4,408 is for salaries. Utilities for the market building will cost $1,175 and miscellaneous maintenance charges, $2,300. Anticipated revenue from stall rentals is placed at $13,000.

Estimates for the commissioners' office totaling $19,504 were passed without discussion. Salaries accounted for $18,929 of this amount. Payment of $10,000 is made this department by the utility departments to bring the net cost of the department to $9,904.

$604,300 APPROVED

Expenditures totaling $604,300 were approved for the engineers' department. Revenue anticipated is placed at $144,900, to make the net expenditure in this department $459,400.

Administration costs in this department are placed at $45,000. Public works to be undertaken will cost $133,200; sewers and drainage, $60,000 and street cleaning and scavenging $195,800.

Upkeep of parks, streets, boulevards and cemeteries is placed at $124,000; operation of civic stables, $17,000; incinerator, $6,000, and upkeep of the exhibition grounds, $6,000.

Under the heading of streets and scavenging it is proposed to spend $25,000 for street cleaning and sprinkling. This is $3,797 less than actual expenditure in 1943.

SNOW CLEARANCE COSTS

Snow and ice removal is estimated to cost $20,000, compared with $44,622 last year. The dust abatement cost for 1944 is estimated at $10,600 compared with $11,800 actually expended in 1943. Scavenging costs are set at $130,000 against $125,902 paid for this work in 1943.

Power Commission, Provincial Bank Bills Before House

First Reading Is Given To Legislation Introduced By Premier, Solon E. Low

Two bills, one to authorize the establishment of an Alberta Power Commission, and prescribing its powers and duties, and a second which is to give authorization for formation of the Alberta Provincial Bank, were introduced into the Legislature Monday. They were given first reading.

The power commission legislation was introduced by Premier Ernest Manning as minister of trade and industry, while Hon. Solon E. Low, provincial treasurer, introduced the bank bill.

Under terms of the power commission bill, the commission is to consist of "not more than three members," appointed by the lieutenant-governor-in-council. One of these three members is to be commission chairman. Remuneration to be received by commission members is to be fixed by the governor-in-council.

MAKE INVESTIGATIONS

When required to do so by the lieutenant-governor-in-council, the commission is to investigate water powers and water privileges in Alberta, their value and capacity; existing facilities for manufacture and distribution of electrical or other power in the province, and other matters relating to power and its distribution in the province, as the governor-in-council may require from time to time.

The commission, and any nominee of the commission, are to have all the powers authorized to be conferred upon a commissioner appointed under the Public Inquiries act.

The commission may be authorized to manufacture, sell, distribute and supply power; to develop and use any water power for the purposes of the act; to acquire by purchase the whole or any part of the property, assets and undertaking of any person, firm or corporation manufacturing or distributing power in Alberta, including shares held or owned by such corporation in any other corporation or corporations with the same or similar objects, and to acquire the whole or any part of the properties, assets and undertakings of such corporations and to maintain and operate

Strikes Detective: Man Is Arrested

City police investigating the alledged theft, or loss of $659 by Mike Zalkiwsky, 13315 64 street, about 10:40 p.m. Monday, placed William K. Henry under arrest after he had allegedly struck Detective Harry Nelson on the face, and had torn the officer's clothing, according to city police. The money was not recovered.

Zalkiwsky reportedly told police that he and three other men, one of whom was Henry, had been on a party. When he went to sleep in an office some of the other men took him outside and put him in a car.

Upon awakening he discovered that his wallet, containing the money, had disappeared.

Officers are conducting an investigation when Henry allegedly struck Detective Nelson. He was placed under arrest and charged with assaulting a peace officer.

No plea was entered when Henry appeared before Magistrate A. I. Miller, K.C., Tuesday morning and the case was remanded until Thursday. Bail was set at $500.

Widely-Known Athlete Dies: 42 Years Old

One of the most popular and outstanding athletes in Western Canada, and an original member of The Loyal Edmonton Regiment on its mobilization when war broke out, Sydney Hamilton died in a city hospital Tuesday morning. He was 42 years old.

He had entered hospital two weeks ago, and underwent an abdominal operation last week.

While interested in all sports, his main activities were centred in baseball, in which he achieved conspicuous success. As a shortstop he played with the famous Red Sox, which under the leadership of R. A. Godson, won the Alberta championship several times, and at a period when the standard of baseball was at its peak in this province.

In addition to his service with the Red Sox, he played with other city clubs, always with distinction.

To the fans he was known as a "good sport" and his colorful playing always evoked enthusiasm in the stands.

He also starred as soccer player, and as a member of the South Side team he figured prominently in many glittering contests.

When war broke out on Sept. 3, 1939, he immediately volunteered and enlisted in The Loyal Edmonton Regiment. Later, however, he was discharged on account of being medically unfit, the ailment which caused his death showing signs of giving trouble even at that time.

AN ACCOUNTANT

In business he was an accountant, and had served with several prominent business concerns here and elsewhere in Alberta.

Latterly he had been employed with the Coast Construction Company.

Born at Neepawa, Man., he came here when a boy, and attended schools on the South Side, including Strathcona High school.

He is survived by his father, W. M. Hamilton, of 8516 104 street, a retired business man; one brother, Ferry Hamilton, in New York City, and one sister, Mrs. Ralph Cooper, of this city.

Funeral arrangements are pending.

The Inquiring Reporter

THE QUESTION

When you get a letter that the censor has gone over, snipping a bit here and there, inadvertently deleting something written on the underside of the paper, (which might have been quite in order), how do you feel?

THE ANSWERS

LOUISE THALIN, waitress: I don't like to get a letter and not know what the writer is talking about, as it is always likely something important that has been cut out. I think letters which have to be censored should be written on one side of the paper only. I guess the censor has his job to do, though —and he does it.

MRS. H. L., housewife: While I get mad when the letters are "chewed" up, I imagine the censor gets a lot of fun out of his work. Censoring correspondence is vitally necessary, however, as much harm could come from thoughtless writings.

V. OWENS, electrician: It does no good to get mad at the censor. If you want your letters to get through in first-class order, don't put into them anything that may be misinterpreted. I think, on the whole, the censors are very human chaps (or lasses!) and enjoy the many little yarns you hear concerning them.

Tram Library Seen in Cairo

Mystic city of Cairo in Egypt, the land of Arabs, camels and pyramids is the last place in the world one would expect to see an Edmonton street car and the Edmonton Public Library street car at that. But that is exactly what W. H. Porter of Edmonton saw, according to a letter received by the members of the Edmonton Public Library board.

Excerpts from the letter which was dated Cairo, Egypt, Feb. 28, read as follows:

"I had a very much of home last night. Went to the pictures and one of the shorts was called "Unusual Occupations", and there on the screen in Cairo was the library street car of the Edmonton Public Library rolling down Jasper Avenue, and out to the edge of town. Boy! Was I tickled!"

A meeting of the Northern Alberta branch of the Navy League of Canada will be held on Wednesday at 4 p.m. in the Royal Bank chambers.

John Stasak, Edmonton, went on trial in supreme court Tuesday before Chief Justice W. C. Ives on a charge of indecent assault. The hearing is proceeding.

A meeting of the University High Home and School Association will be held in the Garneau church on Wednesday, March 22 at 8 p.m. Argue will speak on the topic, "What is a Good School Building?" and will use films for illustrations.

Higher Minimum Wage For Women Will Be Sought

That the minimum wage rate of $12.50 a week set for female help in Alberta, is far out of line with present day costs of living and that the level must therefore be raised, will form the main basis of a brief now being prepared by the executive of the Edmonton Trades and Labor Council to be presented to the Provincial Board of Industrial Relations.

This was revealed at the regular meeting of the Trades and Labor Council held Monday, when delegates approved a motion asking that the executive be furnished with all pertinent data concerning costs of living to female workers.

HELD "SUBNORMAL"

One delegate described the present minimum wage level for females as "subnormal".

Information concerning increases in costs of female wearing apparel, cosmetics and necessities, is sought from delegates in order that a strong, factual brief may be submitted to the board.

It was pointed out by Secretary A. Farmilo that the present minimum wage for female help in Alberta was fixed in 1935. Many other recommendations concerning female help will also be made to the industrial relations board.

Mr. Farmilo gave a brief report on activities of the council in the Edmonton packing plant dispute. He said that a most satisfactory meeting was held recently in the Ukrainian hall, attended by packing plant employees, trades council officials and government representatives.

"DESTROY MOVEMENT"

The C.I.O. is seeking to "destroy the trade union movement here," Mr. Farmilo said, and is now aiming its ammunition at Local No. 78, the A. F. of L. packing plant affiliate.

The speaker was confident, however, that Edmonton will be free of these C.I.O. "episodes" for a long time if Local No. 78 can be maintained.

G. Roberts, representing Local No. 78, thanked the trades council executive for its support in the dispute.

Robert McCreath, assistant secretary of the council, has been appointed liaison officer for the Edmonton Trades and Labor Council on the rationing board.

W. Page, representative of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, with headquarters at Vancouver, was a meeting visitor.

The meeting was one of the shortest in months, adjourning after less than one hour of business.

First Hebrew Padre Overseas From Edmonton

First Hebrew chaplain in the R.C.A.F. and first to cross the Atlantic, Flt. Lt. Jacob Eisen of Edmonton, provides highly interesting copy for a prominent feature article in "Wings Abroad," official weekly newspaper of the R.C.A.F. overseas.

In the issue of Feb. 16 last, just received here, is the article, under the heading of: "Popular Padre from the Prairie."

There is also a large two column picture of the former Edmonton rabbi, who headed the Congregation Beth Shalom in Edmonton for several years before joining the R.C.A.F. in March, 1942.

The article points out that Flt. Lt. Eisen is no stranger to aerial warfare, having undergone several "blitzes" from the Japanese while in China in 1938.

At that time he was an observer with the international relief and Red Cross committee.

Some months ago he spent a furlough in Edmonton.

Popular with non-Jewish as well as those of the Jewish faith in the air force, Flt. Lt. Eisen visited all R.C.A.F. stations in Canada, Labrador, Newfoundland, Alaska and the Aleutians, before going overseas.

Says Industry Ready to Meet Needs of Peace

"Industry in Canada has not only proven versatile, and able and willing to change rapidly to meet new conditions, but has far exceeded our most ardent hopes of its capacity to produce under the urgency of war-time needs," J. N. T. Bulman, Winnipeg, chairman of the prairie division, Canadian Manufacturers' Association, who is visiting in Edmonton, said Monday.

"We Canadians are very proud of the men and women serving in our navies, armies and our air forces all over the world," he continued.

"We, too, can be proud of the supplies and equipment that those at home have produced."

CONTINUE VITAL TASK

Mr. Bulman said that the Canadian Manufacturers' Association and its members will continue to play a vital task in "The peace we hope will all our hearts is not too far distant."

"As we have seen what disasters await us if we are caught unprepared for war, surely we must learn that lesson, and make certain that we are not caught unprepared for peace, and the changeover from war to peacetime endeavors."

Mr. Bulman emphasized that in the post-war period, industry functioning under private enterprise, where industry, agriculture and labor will give of their best, will make it possible to give to Canada "What we all want—the greatest possible employment to the manhood and womanhood of our country, and the need for bringing in more people to populate our vast areas more thickly."

Manufacturers Elect Chard City Chairman

said, Edmonton manufacturing industry is prepared to fill a vital role."

Outlining the progress of manufacturing production in Edmonton, Mr. Christiansen pointed out that "from early beginnings around 30 years ago, manufacturing in Edmonton has steadily expanded until now there is a gross production valued at $52,000,000.

"Under the spur of demands for equipment, food supplies, and other items for the fighting forces," he added, "Edmonton business generally expanded in 1943 to an all-time record which exceeded and exceeded the 1942 volume by over 17 per cent."

He said that there will be an expansion in the types of products manufactured in Edmonton "as the north country is developed and the migration back to it after the war."

"To this end," he said, "its organization is already being adopted to the handling of these problems."

F. D. Sutcliffe, chairman of the legislation committee reported on the principal activities of the committee during the year.

Speakers at the meeting included Carl C. Cook, commissioner of the Alberta Workmen's Compensation Board, who spoke on "Recent Developments in Workmen's Compensation," which was followed by an open forum. Other speakers were J. N. T. Bulman, Winnipeg, chairman of the prairie division, C.M.A., and G. E. Carpenter, Ottawa, secretary of the prairie division, C.M.A.

The meeting voted an expression of thanks to J. A. Christiansen and other retiring officers and to T. Ashenhurst, secretary of the Alberta branch for their work on behalf of the association.

The program included several solos rendered by Jack Williams, accompanied by Dennis Clayton and the presentation of a film depicting joint production committees at work in the United Kingdom.

GREATER SAFETY DECLARED ESSENTIAL FOR INDUSTRY

Unless industry, both management and labor, realize the need for improvement of working conditions to prevent accidents, and are willing to make the effort, permanent betterment of conditions can hardly be expected, Carl C. Cook, commissioner of the Alberta Workmen's Compensation Board, said Monday night.

Addressing the annual meeting of the Edmonton branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association at the Macdonald hotel, Mr. Cook emphasized that the prime necessity for reducing accidents is "that the employer really interests himself in accident prevention.

"This interest can not be delegated to managers or foremen," he said, "nor can it be spasmodic and get results . . . when the employee really believes his employer is in earnest about accident prevention, co-operation will soon follow."

He said that he felt that the accident prevention service provided by the board should come into the picture mainly as an aid to employers in their endeavor to improve conditions.

Mr. Cook reviewed the March, 1943, amendments to the Alberta Workmen's Compensation Act, pointing out that the only manner in which industry can secure lower costs for compensation is, first, and most important—by lowering the accident hazard; and, second, by rehabilitation of those suffering injuries while employed.

Canada Signs Agreements With U.K., Russia and Australia

Tangible evidence of Canada's important role in the supplying of war materials and essential supplies to the fighting fronts was given in the recent signing of Mutual Aid Agreements between this country, the United Kingdom, the Soviet Union and Australia. Contract Breach Alleged in Court

Hearing of a supreme court action in which the Stevenson and Van Humbeek Sawmills, Morris M. Stevenson and Eugene Van Humbeek, are seeking $15,839 damages from Messrs. Bechtel, Price, Callahan, American contractors, for alleged breach of contract, opened in supreme court Tuesday before Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald.

J. N. Mecdonald, K.C., and W. E. Simpson, K.C., are acting for the plaintiffs, and S. M. Field, K.C., and L. D. Hyndman, K.C., for the defendants.

It is alleged by the plaintiffs that the defendant company entered into a contract for the delivery of specified timbers, and that under the terms of the alleged contract the plaintiff company was induced to set up lumbering operations at Keg River. It is alleged also that only a portion of the lumber contracted for was accepted by the company, and that the contract was terminated without cause.

The defendants pleaded that no valid contract existed between the parties and the approval of the North West Service Command, United States Engineers, had not been obtained by the plaintiffs. It was pleaded also that if a contract existed, the plaintiffs had failed to live up to its terms, and also that a compromise settlement had been effected in full satisfaction of all claims that were made by the plaintiffs. The hearing is proceeding.

Frankfurt's Centre Left Smoking Ruin By Air Hammering

NEW YORK, March 21.—(AP)—The Stockholm newspaper Morgon Tidningen said yesterday that the R.A.F.-R.C.A.F. attack Saturday night on Frankfurt had left that centre of the German chemical industry a smoking ruin, with damage so vast that it now must rank ahead of Hamburg as the "worst bombed" in Germany.

The newspaper article, reported to the office of war information, was printed before yesterday's daylight attack on Frankfurt by American heavy bombers.

"Air traffic has been stopped, as

"Why, those yellow McCords! Gittin outsiders to do their feudin'!"

Before the Magistrate

George W. Bolton, who obtained $75 by means of a worthless cheque, to which charge he previously had pleaded guilty before Magistrate A. I. Millar, K.C., was reminded that he had misrepresented himself before now. One of these representations had been as an American army officer. He was sentenced to six months imprisonment.

A 16-year-old boy, previously remanded from juvenile court, on a charge of false pretenses, was not being given an opportunity to go to work—other than what Fort Saskatchewan provided. He was reminded that he had obtained goods falsely in a Calgary departmental store, and repeated the action in the same company's store in Edmonton. He had also forged a document which said he had served with the American forces, and he had made "a smooth job of writing a note in your mother's name in order to get certain goods from this store," Mr. Millar stated.

Now, the law had caught up to him, added the magistrate, as he adjourned the case to March 28 in order to look over the accused's juvenile record.

Steve Lindstrom pleaded guilty to passing a street car which had stopped to discharge passengers, and was fined $5 or seven days.

Olivia Chimilar had had the offer of a good job in a good home, but she turned it down, saying she could find a place for herself. Several times had she left home, and several times had authorities taken her back. She refused the assistance of the Salvation Army, an Army worker stated. The girl was sentenced to 30 days with hard labor for vagrancy.

Nick Repka, charged with contributing to juvenile delinquency, was assessed $40 or two months.

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

ON THE SLOPES OF MOUNT VESUVIUS, March 21—Molten lava spewed out of Vesuvius volcano in its worst eruption of modern times engulfed orchards and farmlands on its slopes today and spread into the villages of San Sebastian and Massa di Somma as the last 700 inhabitants were evacuated.

The extent of damage in the two towns could not be immediately determined because of the heat and smoke hissing streams of lava. But one bridge was carried away and many houses were reported in ruins.

After more than 200 military vehicles were driven at dark last night in the ruddy glow of the volcano, had completed the evacuation of the two towns in 10 hours, authorities began moving the population of the village of Cercola, which is lower down the slope.

Library Plans For Expenses Totalling $66,161

The Edmonton Public Library board is budgeting for an expenditur of $66,161 for the year 1944, according to estimates passed at a meeting of the board Monday evening.

This amount is an increase of $3,066 over the total amount spent last year which was $63,095. Last year's expenditures were however $955 less than was estimated.

ESTIMATED REVENUE

Estimated revenue for 1944 is $6,500 which is an increase of $500 over the total for 1943. Actual revenue received during the past year, however amounted to $7,161.

Two thousand dollars of the estimated expenditure increase is due to revised salary schedule for library employees.

A total of $12,019 will be spent on new books for the library this year, which is a decrease of nearly $400 compared with the amount spent in 1943. An increase of nearly $500 is estimated for the expansion of the street car library service.

A revised scale of salaries for library workers, previously proposed to the board by Civic Employees Union No. 52, and included in the budget, was approved by the board.

WANT ACT REVISED

A committee comprised of L. Y. Cairns, K.C., chairman of the board, C. S. Lee and D. M. The board agreed to a request from the Allied Arts Council for permission to lease the basement of the South Side library for a workshop for the c ncil.

Two donations of $100 each were received by the board from the Women's Musical club and the Toronto Conservatory Music, Alumnae. Edmonton branch, to help pay for the concert grand piano recently acquired by the library. The piano was purchased by the board with the intention of explanding the library music collection from the present recordings, to include recitals by local artists.

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

Copyright, 1944, by British United Press

LONDON, March 21.—American heavy bombers switched the weight of their weight yesterday back to the French invasion coast today in the wake of a small-scale R.A.F. night assault on a Nazi explosive works in southern France.

U.S. headquarters announced that a force of Liberators struck across the channel under heavy cover at the bomb-battered Pas de Calais area—where the Germans reportedly have installed rocket guns and other anti-invasion defences.

The daylight raid followed an attack by a small force of British four-engined Lancasters on an explosives factory at Angouleme, northeast of Bordeaux.

R.A.F. and R.C.A.A.F. Mosquitoes simultaneously bombed targets in western Germany. All planes returned safely from both attacks.

Edmonton Now Largest Meat Packing Centre

Edmonton has become the biggest meat packing and butter producing centre in Canada, R. H. Settle, past president of the Chamber of Commerce, said Monday night in the adult education program at Garneau school.

Tracing the development of business and industry in Edmonton from its early beginnings, Mr. Settle said that the city's publicly-owned civic utilities now are producing large surpluses in the extent of more than $1,000,000 a year.

After the presentation of a film entitled "The Case of Charlie Gordon," A. H. Powell of the District Rehabilitation Board, told the 650 adult students assembled in the auditorium that the problem of finding jobs for Canadians is being carefully considered all over the Dominion.

The big point, however, he said, is "will there be enough jobs for everyone?"

He said that in contemplating the post-war era there were a number of bright aspects such as the enormous back-log of consumer demand for houses, cars and domestic utensils; the healthy business life which will follow the intense financial wartime activity; the pent-up buying power such as Canada had never before known; and the possibilities of government participation in industry.

NO REASON

There is no reason for Ottawa to be faint-hearted about spending public money on public projects, he said.

Other speakers were Frank Peers, extension department, University of Alberta, who discussed the development of German nationalism and the rise of Hitler to power; Dr. Ralph Rutherford, University of Alberta, who spoke on the social aspects of geological discoveries including post-war possibilities in Northwest Canada, and Miss Mabel Patrick, head of the department of home economics at the university, who discussed "Nutrition and Growth."

J. W. Gillis of the Normal school discussed "The Development of Emotion from Childhood to Adulthood" in the psychology class, and Vernon Barford discussed music appreciation.

At the conclusion of the evening's session, Frank Page led the group in community singing.

Doucette, R.D., garrison orderly officer; Lt. W. J. Angus, adjutant of the 2nd Battalion; Dr. T. W. E. Henry and Warden J. D. McLean of Fort Saskatchewan; Lt. D. Roberts, "C" Company; RSM. Charles Laubman and Staff Sgt. George Harvey. Several other officers of the battalion from Edmonton also attended and represented the other companies of the unit.

Ninety-four members of "C" Company were present, many having to leave their homes at 4 o'clock in the afternoon to get to the Fort in time for the parade. Muddy roads were no barrier, however, as some of the men arrived in town by tractor. Many walk up to 10 miles every week to and from parades.

Entertainment was provided by a concert party from Edmonton under the direction of Jack Jones. Other artists were Art Fleming at the piano, Bill Ness and Bill Lynch. A special feature was the display of magic put on by Staff Sgt. Frank Herman, special services division, United States Army. Through the courtesy of U.S. authorities a special film "Baptism of Fire" was shown by Staff-Sgt. Herman.

Arrange Funeral Of Willingdon Boy

A funeral service for Boris Hrynyk, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Hrynyk of the Willingdon district, who died Monday as the result of injuries received at the farm last Saturday, will be held at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday, March 22 from the family residence to the Borowich church. The Rev. Senchuk will officiate and burial will be in the local church cemetery.

The boy was hurt while a granary was being moved on his father's farm. The building slipped, catching the boy who had been looking on. Park Memorial funeral directors are in charge of arrangements.

Former Miner Gets One Year in Jail

William E. Cowle, former miner, from Saskatchewan, was found guilty of theft in county court Monday by Chief Justice W. C. Ives on two charges of being in possession of drugs.

He was sentenced to serve one year in Fort Saskatchewan jail on each of the counts, the sentences to run concurrently. He was also fined $250 on each of the charges or in default of payment to serve two months on each default. If the fines are not paid these sentences will run consecutively.

Nelles V. Buchanan, K.C., was special prosecutor for the Dominion department of health, and W. G. K. Bloor acted for the accused.

Cowle was arrested Feb. 13 last at the C.P.R. South Side station as he was about to board a southbound train. He was seen by Detective James McMurray to throw away a parcel immediately prior to his arrest. This parcel was later recovered by the police and contained 100 tablets of morphine, and two dozen tablets of heroin.

Travellers Hold Annual Banquet, Dance in City

The Edmonton Council of the United Commercial Travellers held its 26th annual banquet and dance Saturday at the Macdonald hotel.

Guests included Mayor John W. Fry, the American consul, Robert English, and Chief Constable Reginald Jennings.

Mayor Fry paid tribute to the "travellers," calling them "ambassadors of goodwill who cement friendly relations between the city and all parts of Northern Alberta."

Captain Harry H. Baker, U.S. Army, was guest speaker. He spoke about the organization of the Northwest Service Command and its functions.

Eskil Carlson, senior counsellor, was chairman.

"For all the mighty array of big business creative talent behind the selling of products today," Capt. Baker said, "there has yet to be devised a sales method as good as that employed by the commercial travelling man who meets his customer face to face, knows his problems and his needs first hand, and because of the personal relationship between them can dispense with high powered tactics and the gaudy trappings of the indirect approach.

DIRECT APPROACH

"Commercial travellers are the last disciples of the direct approach left in the business world."

Capt. Baker pointed out that the "direct approach" is the army's way of doing business too.

One of the U.S. armed forces in northwestern Canada, all encompassed under the single jurisdiction of the Northwest Service Command, have been doing business with Canadians for the last two years in an area or sales region in excess of 1,000,000 square miles."

There were about 340 persons present, including members of the United Commercial Travellers' Association, their wives and friends. Also attending were Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Stewart, representing the Associated Canadian Travellers' Association.

LAFF A-DAY

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Soldiers Like Frills, Furbelows Despite Talk

After Adventures of War, Strict Discipline, Men Will Want Women in Silk and Lace; Sweet, Loveable, Understanding Companions

Recently I ventured the opinion that the day of the clinging-vine woman, the child-wife and the baby-girl is over, and that when Johnny comes marching home from the war he will have changed from a boy into a mature man; he will have been sobered and educated by the experience he has been through, and that he will want in a wife a woman who has the strength and courage and helpfulness of his pioneer grandmother.

According to a soldier, who says that he speaks for all the men in his company, that point of view is all wet. "He writes that he has taken a poll among his buddies and that they are unanimous in declaring that that is the type of wife they do NOT want. But definitely. "It is true," he says, "that the war has changed us in many ways. It has given us different ideals and different standards. But not about women. We are still strong for fluffy ruffles instead of uniforms, and while we admire the noble women who have taken their places beside the men in the war, we don't want them.

PREFER CUDDLY WOMEN

"What we want when we come home will be women with soft hands, slim bodies; sweet-smelling cuddly women, the kind we left behind us, and you are dead wrong when you say that the day of the clinging-vine woman, the child-wife and the baby-talk is over. Her day is just dawning anew."

Maybe so. Maybe so. For the folly of man is past estimating, especially when it comes to picking out a wife. And certainly it is hard to understand why the men who are suffering all the grim horrors of war, who are sloshing about in mud and filth and sleeping in fox holes, who are sickened by the stenches of the battle field and the swamps, and who are weary of looking at uniforms, idealize girls in silks and laces, with white, manicured hands and who smell like Chanel Number 5, and think of them as the most desirable of their sex.

But I am wondering if, when the boys do go back to the parlor ornaments and bric-a-brac cuties of their dreams, they won't suffer the same bitter disillusion and disappointment that we all do when, after a lapse of years, we return to the old homes where we were born? I wonder if the clinging-vine wife isn't going to give her husband a choky feeling when she festoons herself around his neck, as he thinks of the young women he has seen who were a brace instead of a burden to their men?

MIGHT LOSE APPEAL

I wonder if the child-wife, who was smart enough for a boy husband, isn't going to seem awfully moronic to a mature man when he tries to tell her of his hopes and plans and she yawns in his face because she doesn't understand what it is all about? And I wonder just how long the man who has been through the most crucial adventures that can befall a human being, and who has taken part in the making of history can endure the babble of a baby-talk lady?

Of course, if a man stays perpetually adolescent he may still want a wife who is just as flighty as he is. But if he is a real man with brains and purpose, I think that when he goes back to the sweeties he longs for, he is going to feel exactly as we do when we return to the little one-story house in which we were born after we have lived among the sky-scrapers in cities. They won't measure up.

Minute Make-Ups

Skin dry? Lines showing up? Take out one minute to relax that taut dry skin. Place a warmed cloth over your cleansed skin, then immediately pat on a rich face cream. The skin will "drink" it in. One light fingertip patting and a dab or two of cream rouge and your skin won't look so old or so dry!

Debunker

According to Scientist Harold B. Ward of Northwestern University, nearly all popular notions and jingles about the weather are wrong. There is no evidence that a red rising sun will be followed by a hot day; that rainbows indicate coming showers or clear weather; that "rain before seven means shine before eleven"; nor that "If a cock crows when he goes to bed, he'll get up with a wet head." All are true sometimes; and most of the time are untrue.

Good Night, Sweet Prince

The Life & Times of John Barrymore —based on the new best seller

BY GENE FOWLER

Illustrations by James Montgomery Flagg

Jack and Frank Case talked but never once did Barrymore mention Hamlet.

"Should I tell the landlady you're here?" the janitor asked Jack.

While guests waited impatiently at the supper party supposedly in his honor, Jack Barrymore walked alone through New York streets to the Algonquin hotel where he often stayed. He sought the rooms of his old friend, Frank Case, proprietor of the hostelry.

Case was surprised to see Barrymore. "Hello, Jack," he said. "I thought you were going to the big supper party. I was just on my way there."

Barrymore prevailed upon Case to sit down. He called room service and ordered a glass of milk and some finnan haddie. The friends ate and talked but never once did Jack refer to Hamlet or to theatrical matters. It was as if the night of his greatest triumph had never been.

Much later, Jack suddenly exclaimed, "Good Lord! I promised to be at some damned dinner party!"

"I don't think that need worry you now," Case replied. "It's five o'clock."

"That's perfectly fine," Jack said. He sighed, then added, "I want to tell you, Frank, that I never enjoyed a finnan haddie so much in my life."

One Sunday night, soon after Hamlet opened, there was mild excitement at the place in Greenwich Village where Jack used to live during his time of lonely happiness.

The janitor heard a noise that came from the basement. He went there to investigate. Perhaps a prowler had forced his way into the premises. He flashed on the electric light to see a man asleep on the cement floor near the furnace. The janitor was undecided whether to call police or simply rouse the intruder, then eject him.

The man's hair covered the upper part of his face. There was a one or two-day growth of beard on his chin. His clothing was rumpled. He smelled of liquor.

The janitor somehow sensed that this slumped-over figure was not entirely unfamiliar. He leaned over to remove the hat. Then he recognized Barrymore. He was amazed to find the great theatrical hero sleeping in the basement. He shook him awake.

"Can I do something for you, Mr. Barrymore?" he asked. "Should I tell the landlady you're here?"

Barrymore shook his head. "No. Please don't bother her."

"But she ain't seen you for more'n two years. Don't you want we should do something? What's wrong with you, Mr. Barrymore? Something wrong?"

"No," said Barrymore. "I just thought I'd come home."

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

It is one of the privileges of childhood to have ample opportunity to rest and to take advantage of the opportunity. Nothing seems so unchildlike as a child who can't sleep.

But, today, there is so much tension and nervousness among parents that it seems to communicate itself to children. I am impressed daily with the number of letters having to do with sleepless children.

Many of these children are living for the first time in the homes of relatives or grandparents. While we do not expect children to be the victims of war nerves, we do know that when a mother is upset, uneasy, unhappy, her treatment of her children is different. They do not know why, and they only know they too, are tense and nervous and they fall into the habit of crying at bedtime, of waking in the night and crying, and of demanding to sleep with the mother.

Because we know that one of the primary causes of insecurity is the experience of being uprooted, we should not be amazed that these children, suspected to new homes, "different beds and bedrooms, act in this insecure and nervous way.

We know, too, that when a child begins such antics the parent is hampered in her treatment of them by the new situation. She has to consider the feelings of her protectors whose night's sleep cannot be ruined by the crying child. So she gives in to him, rocks him, takes him in her bed and thus shows him that he is master and she is slave.

Just to be allowed to act as he pleases increases a child's uneasiness. He feels guarded and safe when his discipline is firm—when gentle and kind love allows him to get away with spoiled behavior instead of being called to terms for it.

The change in the emotional pattern must be made by the parent. She must act happy, confident and contented, even if her program is a forced one. This helps the child to feel safe.

She must talk of Daddy as if he would be home soon. She must expect the child to accommodate himself to his new home, not make its occupants accommodate themselves to him.

When the mother makes the effort herself, she must avoid giving in to the child's unreasonable whims. Let her run his life as nearly as possible in the usual way; proper bed hours; his own bed when he wakens—not mother's-bed; his usual diet. All of these give him the assurance that all is well with him.

Our leaflet, "Sleeping Habits" may be had by sending a 4-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope together with your request for it to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

Liberal Women Hear G. J. Bryan On Rent Control

George J. Bryan, K.C., head of the Rent Control Board of Edmonton, addressed the Edmonton Women's Liberal Club on "Rent Control," at the meeting held in the Hudson's Bay Company store Friday afternoon.

Plans were discussed for a birthday party to be held at Easter when it is expected the Hon. James A. MacKinnon, minister of trade and commerce and MP. for West Edmonton, will be here.

MY DAY

SAN JUAN, PUERTO RICO—I want to go back now to our first day in Puerto Rico. The flight from Jamaica took us over the Islands of Haiti and Santo Domingo which looked beautiful and wild from the air. On our arrival in San Juan, I could see many changes besides that within the new airfield which was not here when I landed by Pan American in a flying boat ten years ago. The government and Mrs. Tugwell and the head military officials met us.

The slums along the waterfront which filled me with horror the last time were not to be seen, but I was told that they had just moved a little further away. They had not disappeared.

The housing situation is almost as bad as ever, according to the governor. Living costs have risen about 50 per cent, and the head of one of the political parties told me that rice, which used to be five cents a pound, is now ten cents a pound. It is one of the things which the poor people count on as a main article of diet.

The Chancellor of the University, Senor Benitez, dined with the governor and Mrs. Tugwell, and he told me the university had grown very considerably in the past ten years. He said that the government has now established a system of scholarships whereby the best scholars in the high schools are given a chance to go to the university.

A choir from the university led by the head of the music department sang in the evening at the governor's reception and gave a very lovely program.

The governor said they had kept everything quiet about my arrival, but nevertheless everybody seemed to know I was there and the children who were out of school early made the narrow street leading to La Fortaleza seem narrower than usual.

We left our things at the governor's house, and started out almost immediately with General Strong. He asked me to review with him a regiment of Puerto Rican troops who seemed to me to march very smartly in spite of their few weeks of training.

Then we went to the enlisted men's new recreation building. It is built right on the cliff looking across the ocean. There are some good bowling alleys, a little music room, a writing room upstairs and a big room for games with a sun-deck outside, which I am sure will be filled on pleasant evenings. As the building is new, I was allowed to roll two balls down an alley and failed each time to hit the pins at the end. At this centre, a boy was introduced to me who came from Poughkeepsie, N.Y., and Private Smith was photographed with General Shedd. This will be a photograph which I imagine he will want to send home. It doesn't often happen for a private to have his picture taken with a general!

Curious coincidences are always occurring on these trips. Another young officer, when introduced to me, told me that his name was Deering and that his father is a great friend of our old friend, Major Henry S. Hooker.

WOMEN SHOPPERS

LONDON — (CP) — Housewives rampant are a thing of might, a London store manager found out after a rumor got around that enamel saucepans were on sale in the store.

"Had an hour later I had a riot on my hands," the manager said. "Jars of pickles were knocked over and I couldn't even get near the phone to call the police."

He sold his four months' quota in an hour.

Points for Parents

By EDYTH THOMAS WALLACE

Mother: "I'm sorry, dear, but there isn't time for a story tonight. You used up all the story time when you stopped to play instead of getting undressed."

Mother: "Quit teasing and I'll tell you a short story tonight but this is the last time you'll get one when you take so long to get undressed."

The child who hears "this is the last time" often knows there will probably never really be a "last time" and acts accordingly.

Edmonton Artists Present Recital Vermilion Camp

A concert at the C.W.A.C. camp at Vermilion was given by a group of artists Sunday, who travelled from Edmonton to the station to perform before the women taking their basic training.

The party was organized by Jimmie Dent and sponsored by the Canadian Legion War Services.

A guest artist, Joe Trevino, a member of the American Armed Forces stationed in Edmonton, sang several Latin-American songs, and songs in his own Spanish language were well received.

The program included: Misses Betty Cairney, Joe Debie and Jessie Stewart, Scottish dancers; Bill Lynch, tenor; Chic Clifford, of the Clifford entertainers; Miss Violet Main, the "Kate Smith of Edmonton"; the six Treacy sisters in harmony, and Abie and Joe, the transients in their "Hoe Down" with violin and banjo. All the artists were assisted by Dennis Clayton, pianist.

There's just so much let-out to a hem and after the limit has been reached big sister's garments should be passed along to little sister. If the garment happens to be a pleated skirt it will usually provide enough material after ripping to make a plain skirt with matching panties for a younger child.

Daughters of Chinese Minister Responsible for Ladies' Club

Credit for the formation of the Chinese Ladies' Club was given to the Misses Esther and Lavina Dickman, daughters of the Rev. Fong Dickman, now of Vancouver, who came to Edmonton in 1933. Miss Edith Mah told an Edmonton Bulletin reporter in an interview Monday.

The Chinese community here had not had a minister for some time before the Rev. Mr. Dickman came through the efforts of the United Churches Missionary Society. His daughters invited the Chinese women to meet at their home with the result that the club was formed with three aims to achieve: First, to raise funds for Chinese famine relief; second, to get the women together because they had not had any social life and, third, to bring Christian teaching to the Chinese community.

At first the group met in the parlor of the Rev. Mr. Dickman's home, now they meet in one of the homes and gather at the church on the corner of 96 street and 102 avenue. In the building which is like a Y.M.C.A. for Chinese boys, there are rooms upstairs, where Chinese men in the armed forces can spend leave.

STRONG EXECUTIVE

The energetic president of the Chinese Ladies' Club is Miss Edith Mah, the secretary is Miss Vera Pon, and Mrs. W. Yule is treasurer. The organization includes Canadian women and has a membership of 24 Chinese women and a similar number of Canadians.

Among the activities of this group is a chicken chow mein tea which will be held in the Bissell Memorial Institute, corner of 96 street and 103 avenue, March 29 from 3 until 6 p.m., and from 8 until 10 p.m. Proceeds are for famine relief and will be sent direct to Madame Chiang Kai-shek. Already the Chinese community of 600 here has raised $300 for this relief. The ladies' canvassed the community for this fund.

HELPS RED CROSS

Recently the women, through their club, collected the wool and made six blankets and three afgans which they gave to the Red Cross Society to be sent to Britain.

The Chinese Benevolent Association includes Chinese women and the group takes part in every kind of relief that is collected. Chairman of this organization is Norman Chan; secretary, Bing Mah, and treasurer, Charles Mah Yet. For this present famine relief drive the group has already raised $116.

The present minister of the church is Rev. J. K. Leung and he leads an active Young People's Society, which recently presented a successful fashion show with the models wearing beautiful Chinese robes. In the Sunday school are a dozen or so small Chinese children.

Another active worker in the community is Miss Vera K. Pon, a recent graduate of Alberta College and a member of a Chinese committee of four who is assisting with the forthcoming dog show which is in aid of the Chinese Relief fund. The show is to be held in the Palace Gardens April 10, and is sponsored by the Edmonton Dog Fanciers' Club and the English Cocker Spaniel Club of Alberta.

Miss Vera Pon Assists Show

Miss Vera K. Pon is a member of the Chinese committee which is assisting with the forthcoming dog show to be held in aid of the Chinese War Relief fund at the Palace Gardens on April 10. The show is sponsored by the Edmonton Dog Fanciers' club, and the English Cocker Spaniel club of Alberta. Miss Pon is in charge of publicity.

Major Joseph C. Quirk, U.S. A.A.F., will be flown here by plane from Richmond, West Virginia, to judge the entries.

I LOOKED into my pantry the other day, and noticed the imposing array of packaged cereals which filled a whole shelf. It reminded me that there's an amazing number of good things to be made with cereals, for instance!

HONEY BRAN MUFFINS

2 cups Canada approved flour	1 egg
3 tsps. baking powder	½ cup strained honey
¾ tsp. salt	1¼ cups milk
2 cups bran	1 tbsp. melted shortening
¾ cup finely chopped walnut meats

Sift and measure flour; sift with baking powder and salt. Combine sifted ingredients with bran, and nut meats (the latter may be omitted). Beat egg slightly; add honey, milk, and shortening; combine with flour-bran mixture; mix just enough to moisten all flour. Pour into well-greased muffin pans, filling two-thirds full. Bake in moderately hot oven (425° F.) 25 to 30 minutes, or until done. Makes 16 large muffins.

FRESH LEMON OATMEAL COOKIES

1 cup Canada approved flour	½ cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1 tsp. baking powder	1 egg
½ tsp. salt	1 tbsp. milk
¼ tsp. soda	2¼ tsps. grated lemon peel
1¼ cups regular rolled oats	½ tsp. vanilla extract

Sift and measure flour; sift again with baking powder, salt and soda. Add oats. Cream shortening and sugar together until light and fluffy. Add egg to creamed mixture, beating well. Add flour mixture and milk alternately, mixing well after each addition. Add lemon peel and flavoring. Drop by teaspoonfuls on lightly greased cookie sheet. Decorate each cookie with diamond-shaped wedges of lemon peel arranged in a three-leafed design. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) 15 minutes or until lightly browned. Remove cookies immediately to rack; cool; store. Makes about 3½ dozen.

Oats Purchases In Winnipeg Pit

WINNIPEG, March 21—(CP)—Shippers purchased an estimated 500,000 bushels of oats today during trading on the Winnipeg grain exchange. Business was transacted in anticipation of the opening of navigation at the Lakehead.

Other grain dealings were minor with rye scoring sharp advances at the opening on strength at Chicago, but easing off when profit-taking appeared in the closing stages.

American houses were on both sides of the market during the session.

The close was ½ to ⅝ higher with the May future at $1.29½.

Brisk Wheat, Rye Trade at Chicago

CHICAGO, Mar. 21—(AP)—The brisk trade which characterized the wheat and rye markets shortly after the opening was renewed just before the close today and prices showed substantial gains in reflection of tight cash markets and bullish interpretation of the government's crorp report on intentions to plant.

The rye market, however, was unsettled at times and commission houses sold the grain on bulges with the result that prices backed down at times. Firmness in wheat also was attributed to short covering and possible closing of spreads between this and other markets.

Closing at or near the day's high points, wheat finished ¼-1 cent higher than the previous close. Oats were up ⅛-½, rye was ½-¾ higher, and barley was up ¾-1 cent. May $1.27.

Wheat: May 1.73, July 1.69½, Sept. 1.68, Dec. 1.68.

Move to Lower Social Service Tax Defeated

A move by George MacLachlan (Ind., Pembina) to have the social services tax in municipal districts cut down to one mill on the dollar of assessment, from the present rate of three mills, was lost in the legislature Monday night, when a bill to amend the Social Services Tax act was under consideration.

After discussion and voting on Mr. MacLachlan's proposal, the bill was approved by committee of the whole, and reported to Mr. Speaker Peter Dawson for third reading.

Hon. C. E. Gerhart, minister of municipal affairs, who introduced the bill into the house, amended it by dropping to 92.5 per cent. from 95 per cent. the amount required to be levied under the tax, which under terms of the bill is to be requisitioned annually from municipal districts, instead of being turned over to the province as it is collected by the municipalities.

ALLOW FOR $1,200,000

In estimates for the coming fiscal year, the government has allowed for collection of $1,200,000 under provisions of the Social Service Tax act.

Mr. MacLachlan, calling for the reduction in the service tax in municipal districts, said "The whole basis of the social service tax is wrong." He declared that while the municipal authorities collect the tax, the government gets the money, and while the municipality gets the blame for its collection, the government gets the credit for spending the money.

The Independent party member quoted figures from returns tabled at a previous session, which showed the amounts per capita paid under the social service tax.

The figures were: Cities, 73c per capita; towns, 46c per capita; villages, 29 per capital, and farmers, $2.30 per capita.

Mr. Gerhart, in reply to Mr. MacLachlan, said that the member had called for a change in the incidence of taxation, but asked for a reduction in the mill rate.

REVIEW UNDERWAY

The minister said a review of the entire tax structure of the province is now underway, and that members could expect to see different incidences of taxation as a result.

When another bill, the Wartime Moratorium Act, was taken up by the committee, a brief discussion ensued as members asked for information from the minister who introduced it into the House, Hon. Lucien Maynard, K.C., attorney-general.

The bill is to prevent foreclosure actions and actions on agreements for sale, being taken against farmers while they are in the armed services. The protection is extended by the bill to farmers who have a wife, husband, son or daughter in the services, provided that immediately prior to enlistment, he or she lived with the farmer on the land, or assisted in farming operations.

One member, N. B. James (S.C., Edmonton), asked why the bill's provisions were not extended to protect a returned man or his family, who lived in the city.

Mr. Maynard said the bill applies to farmers as farming is the livelihood of the individual, and his farm is where he makes his home.

Lionel Tellier (Ind., St. Albert), said he agreed with the principle of the bill, but felt that the section which extends protection to a farmer who has a wife, son, daughter or husband in the services was going too far.

TWELVE BILLS PASSED

A total of 12 bills were reported for third readings, after the committee rose. Progress was reported on one other.

At Monday afternoon's sitting, second readings were given to 10 bills, and third readings to three others. Those given third reading, and now awaiting royal assent, include an act to establish a natural gas utilities board, and prescribe its duties; an act to amend the Edmonton Hat city charter granting universal or adult suffrage there, and an act respecting persons dealing in or with fish.

Besides extending the franchise, the Medicine Hat bill will allow women to be elected to municipal offices, and will remove property qualifications for candidates for mayor and aldermen.

FUNNY BUSINESS

"The speaker will now address you on his proposal to increase taxes!"

Centralization of Power Is One Major Objective of International Financiers

It is no accident that the policies being put forward for post-war reconstruction by the old parties and socialists alike, and by spokesmen for the financial interests, all involve increased centralization of power, mass regimentation and bureaucracy under methods of compulsion by state authorities, high taxation, forced labor and continued dependence of the individual citizen for his existence on a system of wage slavery, Premier Ernest Manning stated in an address here Monday night.

"The objective of international finance is a world slave state, and, unfortunately, they seem able to find willing dupes to help them in their pernicious plans," said Mr. Manning.

"It is because of this perilous national situation that the Social Credit forces across Canada are organizing for political action in the federal field," he continued. "It is growing more and more apparent that the other political powers are so bound to the policies of financial orthodoxy, and the doctrine of the supreme state that the only hope of saving the situation is for the Social Credit forces to get into the political arena in the national field, and fight out the issue with the help of the people."

"Never in the history of our country have Canadians been faced with a crisis anything like that which is developing at the present time. Even as our men on the battlefronts, along with the splendid forces of our Allies, are smashing ahead—if they can put up a substantial lump sum payment. Where will they get any substantial lump sum to put up? Out of their army, navy or air force pay? Then what about the hundreds of thousands not covered by those provisions? What about those who come back with their health impaired? You know what kind of treatment which the men who are being discharged now are receiving under the ungodly provisions of a Pensions Act that should make us hang our heads in shame.

"I claim that it is nothing short of criminal folly to imagine that we can treat our returned men in that kind of haphazard and heartless manner. The terrible lesson of the aftermath of the last war should make that plain—yet those in charge of our national affairs, are heading into a repetition of that shameful chapter in our history.

"When we turn to the preparations being made for transferring our war time productive resources to the production of our peace time requirements, it is the same sorry tale of a lack of preparation. May I ask how, in the name of commonsense, can we expect a financial system that brought us to the brink of disaster before the war, to serve us in the tremendous task of reconstruction after the war?

PLEDGE CREDIT

"What on earth is the use of setting up an industrial development bank to pledge the nation's credit to the private financial corporations by selling them bonds to finance industries to produce goods which, on the evidence of our experience, we know will be available because the people will lack the purchasing power with which to buy them?

"When we consider the social security measures being offered to us, it is the same story. In order to give workers security against unemployment, their already inadequate wages are to be taxed in order to provide a fund out of which they will be paid relief on a bare subsistence level, with the threat of forced labor hanging over them.

SAME PRINCIPLE

The same principle is being proposed to provide sickness benefits under a vast scheme of state regimentation and bureaucracy. Don't the advocates of these plans realize that every dollar extracted from the wages of the workers for these schemes will decrease their purchasing power, and inevitably push us into another depression such as the same system produced before the war," Mr. Manning declared.

Vote Is 37 to 5

Independent Ranks Split As Reconstruction Report Accepted by Legislature

By a recorded vote of 37 to 5, the Alberta Legislature Monday night carried a motion to receive the interim report of the provincial post-war reconstruction committee, tabled in the House on March 10.

Vote on the motion, which was introduced by Hon. N. E. Tanner, minister of lands and mines, reconstruction committee chairman, and seconded by E. J. Martin (Ind.-Peace River), a committee member, split independent party ranks.

Voting in favor of adopting the motion were all Social Credit members present; E. E. Roper (C.C.F.-Edmonton); Angus J. Morrison (Lab.-Edson); Hugh John Macdonald, K.C. (L.-Edmonton); Mr. Martin; J. Percy Page (Ind.-Edmonton); D. J. McKinnon (Ind.-Gleicher); E. M. Brown (Ind.-Didsbury); F. Laut (Ind.-Banff-Cochrane); J. Broomfield (Ind-Okotoks-High River), and L. Tellier (Ind.-St. Albert).

THOSE OPPOSED

Voting against the motion were James Walker, Independent party leader, Warner; James C. Mahaffy, K.C. (Ind.-Calgary); George MacLachlan (Ind.-Pembina); Percy McKelvey (Ind.-Ponoka), and J. J. Bowlen (L.-Calgary).

Debate on the motion was featured by a charge from the opposition side of the house that the government was making a "political football" of the report.

Exchanges took place in the debate, when E. E. Roper (C.C.F.-Edmonton) and R. E. Ansley (S.C.-Leduc), chairman of the Alberta Social Credit Board, crossed swords regarding the shortage of purchasing power.

Mr. MacLachlan voiced the charge that the report has been made a political football. "It is a pity that the document has been made a political football," he said. "I was afraid of that. We in this group are willing to receive the report, but we repudiate the section dealing with money."

RESENTS STATEMENT

The next speaker, Hon. A. J. Hooke, provincial secretary, chairman of the committee's sub-committee on finance, stated he resented the statement that the report was being made a "political football."

The argument concerning monetary reform started on the other side of the House," Mr. Hooke pointed out. "If anyone is trying to make a political football of the matter, it is the opposition."

Mr. Hooke wanted to know what value the report would have, if it did not say how its recommendations were to be effected. He said there was not one word for Social Credit, as Social Credit, in the report.

Opening debate on the motion to receive the report, Mr. Tanner paid a tribute to the late Alfred Speakman (Ind., Red Deer), who died late last year, and was a member of the post-war committee. The minister said he would look for a recommendation from the leader of the opposition, James Walker (Ind., Warner), of a member to take Mr. Speakman's place.

DISCUSSES REPORT

During his address, the minister discussed various parts of the reconstruction report, which listed 180 recommendations brought in so far. (The reconstruction committee's report was summarized by this newspaper on March 11.)

On the question of natural resources, Mr. Tanner drew attention of members to the following recommendations of the committee:

"That the oil industry in Alberta be regarded as still in its infancy and further study be devoted to incentives to private enterprise to continue explorations."

"That the Alberta government continue to maintain regulations of the industry to ensure that exploration, drilling and production be conducted in the best interests of the industry and the people."

Mr. Martin, speaking to the resolution, pointed to the problem of fitting 2,000,000 men and women now in the armed services or in war industries, into the economic system of the nation in the post-war period.

OBJECTS TO SECTIONS

Mr. Roper said he was in agreement with most of the committee's report, but was disappointed regarding certain sections.

Mr. Roper suggested that the report recommended "more and more" incentives be given to private enterprise to exploit the resources of the people." He said that the people of the province who had inherited these resources, had received a net benefit of three-quarters of a million dollars from them, while private enterprise had been given incentive amounting to $7,000,000.

He went on to say later than the report does not even suggest a study be made of the public development of the resources, and that the same situation applied to other industries, such as the coal industry.

Mr. Walker said the government were "in a setting up the post-war committee, in view of the importance of rehabilitation of those who will come back from the war.

DEVELOPMENT NEEDED

He said that the agricultural program suggested in the report was well presented, and he concurred in the views of the educational subcommittee.

He said the million-dollar vote by the House for post-war reconstruction was not large enough, and suggested a housing program as a great need in the post-war period.

Mrs. C. R. Wood (S.C.-Stony Plain), also a committee member, said that in the post-war period the needs of man should receive first consideration. "Money should have been made for adequate social security measures for our people generally?

ARE INADEQUATE

"The steps that have been taken so far for rehabilitating our returned men are totally and hopelessly inadequate. First, we have the indefinite promise that they will get back their old jobs. How many of those jobs will exist after the war? How many of the men will want to go back to those jobs after four or five years on the battlefront? What about the men who had no job before? We are told that they will receive special training while they live on a bare subsistence allowance. We are told that some of them will be able to settle on the land—if they can put up a substantial lump sum payment. Where will they get any substantial lump sum to put up? Out of their army, navy or air force pay? Then what about the hundreds of thousands not covered by those provisions? What about those who come back with their health impaired? You know what kind of treatment which the men who are being discharged now are receiving under the ungodly provisions of a Pensions Act that should make us hang our heads in shame.

"I claim that it is nothing short of criminal folly to imagine that we can treat our returned men in that kind of haphazard and heartless manner. The terrible lesson of the aftermath of the last war should make that plain—yet those in charge of our national affairs, are heading into a repetition of that shameful chapter in our history.

"When we turn to the preparations being made for transferring our war time productive resources to the production of our peace time requirements, it is the same sorry tale of a lack of preparation. May I ask how, in the name of commonsense, can we expect a financial system that brought us to the brink of disaster before the war, to serve us in the tremendous task of reconstruction after the war?

PLEDGE CREDIT

"What on earth is the use of setting up an industrial development bank to pledge the nation's credit to the private financial corporations by selling them bonds to finance industries to produce goods which, on the evidence of our experience, we know will be available because the people will lack the purchasing power with which to buy them?

Don't the advocates of these plans realize that every dollar extracted from the wages of the workers for these schemes will decrease their purchasing power, and inevitably push us into another depression such as the same system produced before the war," Mr. Manning declared.

Bills Introduced For Power Unit, Provincial Bank

any property or properties so required.

The bill gives the commission authority to acquire by purchase, lease, or otherwise, and construct, maintain and operate works for the production of power; and to "acquire by purchase, lease or otherwise, and without the consent of the owner thereof or of any person interested therein, to enter upon, take possession of, expropriate and use, maintain and operate all erections, machinery, plant and other works and appliances for the transmission, supply and distribution of power . . .

The commission will also be empowered to enter into contract with any person or municipality manufacturing, generating, transmitting or distributing power, to supply power to the commission, and to require such persons or municipalities to furnish the commission with as much power as may be deemed necessary.

Regarding the matter of expropriation under the act, the bill states, "Whenever the commission acts under the authority to expropriate conferred, by a certain section of the bill), compensation shall be made to the owners or persons interested for lands and rights and other assets taken from and for all damage necessarily resulting from the exercise of the powers granted to the commission . . ."

MAY USE FORCE

Another section of the bill makes provision for the lieutenant-governor-in-council to authorize the power commission to forcibly or otherwise enter upon, seize, and take possession of and use any part of the property, assets and undertaking of any person, firm or corporation manufacturing or distributing power in Alberta.

In the case of a person not being satisfied with compensation for lands or property taken by the commission as prescribed in the act, he may apply for increased compensation to the commission, and failing in satisfaction, he may apply for arbitration on the case. Two arbitrators are to be appointed in these cases, one for the claimant and one for the commission, and such arbitration to be governed by provisions of the Arbitration Act.

Operations of the commission, and its financial statement, are to be tabled in the Legislature annually, by the minister of trade and industry.

ELIMINATE OBJECTIONS

The provincial bank bill is designed to eliminate stated objections of the Dominion government to the last application for a provincial bank charter, made by the province in 1940.

It provides that members of the executive council to become shareholders in the Alberta Provincial Bank, to the extent of $500,000, and to act as directors of the bank, exercising all powers and functions of directors, as required by the Bank Act.

The bill also provides that the provincial treasurer may pay costs and expenses of incorporating the provincial bank out of the province's general revenue fund, and that $500,000 sum which will enable members of the executive council to become shareholders in the bank to that amount, also out of the general revenue fund.

If a minister ceases to hold that office, the bill provides that he shall cease to be a shareholder or director of the bank.

The bill also repeals the present Banking Powers Act, which was the basis of the province's first application for a bank charter.

TREASURY BRANCHES

In answer to a question by J. C. Mahaffy, K.C., (Ind.-Calgary) regarding the possibility of government treasury branches if and when a provincial bank is established, Hon. Lucien Maynard, K.C., attorney-general, said they could come under provisions of the Provincial Bank Act, instead of being administered under the provincial treasury department as at present.

Mr. Maynard said that under the new bank bill, no extra privileges will be asked of Ottawa, nor will anything be asked that is not granted to any other bank.

no longer be a determining factor" when told members of the house.

The present system of taxation and borrowing must be done away with, Mr. Wood went on, saying "Taxation and borrowing have certainly got the world in a mess today."

Referring to Mr. MacLachlan's suggestion that the post-war report is a "political football," Mrs. Wood said: "There is not much hope for a reconstructed world if responsible people, like in this House, have to jump to the dictates of a whip." (Mr. MacLachlan is Independent party whip.)

Mr. Tanner, in rebuttal, said the "political football" charge was the "worst thing" that had been thrown at his side of the House. "I resent it, because I know how the committee members worked. The work is too important to be a political football," he added.

Mr. Speaker Peter Dawson then took the vote on the motion.
